Ill Health and Business Worries Cause Eugene Goodwin to End Life

Leaves His Beautiful Berkeley Home to Kill Himself Near Greek Theater

BERKELEY, Oct. 18.—Worry over ill health and business troubles caused Eugene Goodwin, of 2535 Piedmont avenue, to shoot himself in the mouth with a revolver on the university campus a short distance east of the Greek theater some time last night, death resulting instantly. The body was found this morning by Andrew Rocca, a student residing at 2230 College avenue.

Goodwin left a note to his wife explaining that he was tired of life on account of acute Bright's disease and what he termed a terrible nervous trouble which lasted for two months, and which he said was likely to continue if he lived.

"This makes life look black to me," he wrote; "forgive me, dearest."

SUMMONED BY JURY.

Goodwin was secretary of the Pacific Coast Hardware and Metal Association, with offices in the Monachod building, San Francisco. The federal grand jury has been investigating this organization of coast jobbers and other hardware dealers in the matter of alleged restraint of trade. Goodwin was to have gone to Los Angeles last night to attend a session of the federal investigators today. He left his home on Piedmont avenue in the morning, ostensibly to take a train for the South. He was to have been accompanied by Walter Mansfield of San Francisco, attorney for the hardware association.

When Goodwin's family and friends learned that he had left for Los Angeles, and owing to Mansfield's inability to leave yesterday with him, a search for the Berkeleyan was begun on both sides of the bay.

GOES TO CAMPUS.

It was learned that a woman acquaintance had seen him going in the direction of the Greek Theater about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. No further trace of him was found.

FIRST ISSUE AGAIN POKES UP HEAD IN M'NAMARA CASE

Wrangle Resumed in Los Angeles Trial; Darrow Challenges Prospective Jurors

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—After lying quiet for two days, the first big issue in the McNamara murder trial poked its head up again today and began to make trouble.

Before noon the defense and the state had collided twice; two jurors had been challenged, and the court had reserved its decision. All this difficulty arose from the contention of the defense that a man who believes the Los Angeles Times building was dynamited October 1, 1910, is not a competent juror and the state holds he is, unless he has a fixed opinion as to the guilt or innocence of James B. McNamara, the defendant, who is on trial for the death of Charles J. Haggerty, one of the twenty-one men killed in the Times disaster.

"If a talesman believes the Times building was blown up by gas, he certainly believes the defendant not guilty," said District Attorney Fredericks.

"On the other hand, if he believes the Times building was dynamited he still has expressed no belief as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. It is analogous to an arson case, when a man believes a barn was burned, but has no belief whether or not the defendant burned it."

"Counsel seeks to say a juror is disqualified if he thinks the Times was blown up by gas, but is not qualified if he thinks dynamite caused the explosion," said Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for the defense.

"The case ought not go to trial on that theory," he added. "Do you think this man is a fair juror?"

"I certainly do," said Fredericks.

"Well, I like your idea of fairness," said Darrow, and the court interrupted.

George W. McKee, the first talesman challenged today, and Otto A. Jensen, the second, both said they strongly believed the Times building was dynamited. Jensen, beside, this, said he believed labor union members and leaders were responsible for it.

MORNING BUSY ONE.

The defense in the McNamara murder trial began today's work by challenging for cause George W. McKee, a contractor, who said he had a fixed opinion that the Los Angeles Times was blown up by dynamite. The state resisted the challenge and Assistant District Attorney G. Ray Horton immediately took up the questioning.

The challenge against McKee is in line with the avowed policy of the defense under Attorney C. S. Darrow to try to show that the Times building was blown up by gas and that James B. McNamara, on trial for the death of Charles J. Haggerty, who was killed in the Times disaster, could not have been responsible either for the explosion or for Haggerty's death.

The state holds that an opinion as to the cause of the explosion need not necessarily prejudice a juror to such an extent that he cannot give a fair trial.

DARROW BEGINS.

Attorney Darrow began to examine McKee immediately after court convened at 10:10 o'clock.

"You said yesterday you had an opinion as to whether the Times disaster was caused by explosive placed there by gas, or some other accident; is that pretty strong?" asked Attorney Darrow. "Yes, sir," replied McKee.

"Do you think that would prejudice you against the defendant?" "No."

"Against our side of it?" "No."

"How did you get that, from reading?" "Yes."

"Do you think you could listen favorably to evidence that the building was blown up by gas?" "No."

"It would take much evidence to change your opinion?" "Yes."

"Would it take a great deal of it?" "Yes," said McKee.

"You've had that opinion for several months?" "Yes."

"You could not be fair and impartial on that subject?" "I think so."

BEGIN CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Here Attorney Darrow challenged McKee for cause, but the prosecution resisted and a cross-examination was begun.

G. Ray Horton for the state drew from McKee the admission that if sworn a juror he "would not act fairly and impartially" confining his questions to the guilt or innocence of the defendant and not the cause of the explosion, ending with an appeal to the court that under the penal code a talesman could serve if his opinion was based on reading or rumors.

Judge Bordwell said that he would take the matter under advisement, but for a few minutes counsel for both sides argued the point. Attorney Darrow declaring that by not resisting a challenge yesterday by another talesman for the same kind of bias, the state had conceded that such talesmen should be disqualified. District Attorney Fredericks refused to admit that any such concession had been made and that the question of cause was a collateral issue as far as the prosecution was concerned. The court declared that it so understood the state's position to have been thus far outlined.

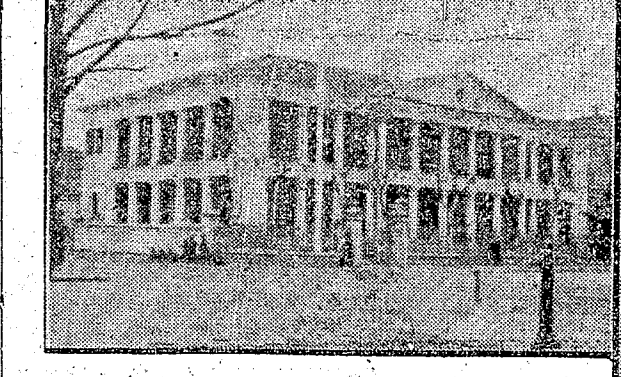

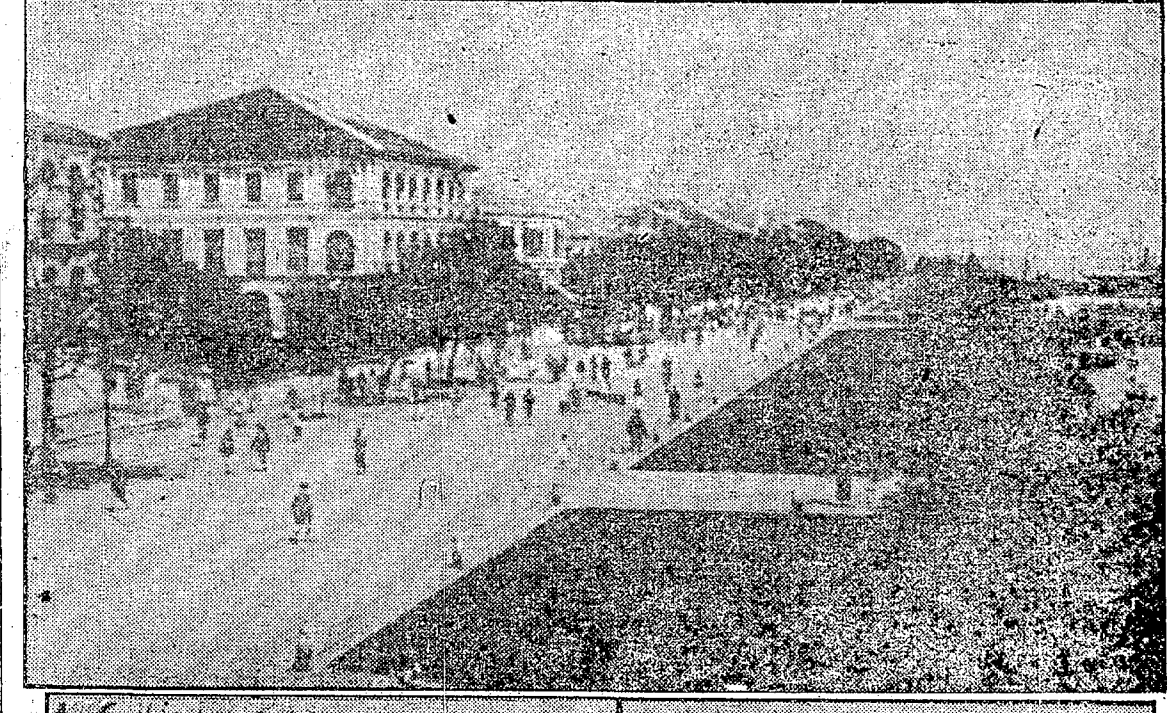

"As I understand it," said Judge Bordwell, "the state declares the defense has conceded that such talesmen should be disqualified."

SHOOTS WIFE AS SHE PLAYS PIANO

Clerk Suffering From Melancholia, Then Kills Himself

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18.—The bodies of I. A. Millichamp, a clerk, and his wife, were found in their apartments today. Millichamp apparently had shot his wife while she was playing the piano and had then shot and killed himself. The couple formerly lived in Seattle.

Millichamp and his wife were last seen alive Monday evening. He was 32 years of age and his wife 24.

It was learned today from a friend Mrs. Millichamp that the latter had feared for her husband's sanity for some time. He brooded greatly over the condition of his health and was subject to attacks of melancholia. That Millichamp killed his wife and himself in a moment of insanity is the opinion formed by the police after talking with friends of the young couple.

NOTED ARTIST CRITICALLY ILL

Arthur Putnam, Sculptor, Near Death Following an Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Lying between life and death at the St. Francis Hospital, suffering from an incurable disease, is Arthur Putnam, sculptor and artist, whom his enthusiastic friends assert is the greatest since Michael Angelo. Possessed of natural gifts of the rarest sort, and with an artistic temperament and a love of nature and of his work that has never before been seen in one so young, Putnam, a self-made man, was forging to the front as perhaps the greatest sculptor in the world, when he was stricken down with a cancer of the brain which now threatens to take away his life. Last Saturday, at St. Francis Hospital, the young man was operated upon, but the disease had spread beyond bounds and defied the skill of surgeons. His surgeon, Dr. Philip Brown, could not be seen this morning, but it is known that there is scarcely a ray of hope for Putnam's ultimate recovery.

Willie Folk, the well-known architect, had this to say today in speaking of Putnam's promise for the future: "I considered Arthur Putnam as forging to the front and as giving indications of being the greatest sculptor since Michael Angelo. I am sorry to say that from all indications it would seem as though we were going to lose him."

Putnam recently spent two years in Europe where his work gained the recognition of Paris and Rome. His home is in Berkeley. He has a wife and two children.

THOUSANDS IN BLOODY CLASH

Attempt to Reinforce Entrenched Land Troops Met With Desperate Resistance

About 4000 Chinese Engage in Struggle and Many Fall in Conflict

HANKOW, China, Oct. 18.—A general engagement between the revolutionary army and imperial forces was precipitated on the waterfront here early today by the attempt of Admiral Sah Chen Ping to land a large body of troops for the reinforcement of General Chang Piao.

Chang Piao, who, although officially dismissed by the Peking government, still retains his command, was entrenched with several hundred of the old provincial army at a point in the native city close to the foreign concessions.

It was just daybreak when Admiral Sah ordered his cruisers to disembark their soldiers near Chang Piao's position. The revolutionists on the Wu Chang fortifications immediately detected the movement and opened a hot fire with their artillery.

LANDING COVERED.

The cruisers and gunboats in the river replied with a rain of shells, which diverted the attention of the Wu Chang artillerymen and effectually covered the landing of the troops.

Scattered bodies of revolutionists on both sides of the river joined in the fighting and by mid-forenoon it was estimated that 2000 imperial troops and nearly 10,000 rebels were engaged.

The warships used up a large quantity of ammunition, but the effectiveness of their fire was hampered by fear of endangering the foreign concessions.

All the foreign warships in the river sent landing parties ashore for the protection of the foreign interests.

The battle was indecisive. The rebels temporarily drove the imperial troops back from their position, but in doing so they exhausted their rifle ammunition and were compelled to retrace on their base at Wu Chang.

The revolutionists, with infantry and artillery, attacked the government troops which were re-inforced from the Chinese warships in the river and supported by the guns of the fleet.

While the fighting was in progress, the thirteen foreign vessels in the river landed a joint force under command of Vice-Admiral Sir Alfred L. Winsloe, commander of the British eastern fleet. The British Crossed the river and landed at a point near the camp, in charge of Dr. MacWillie, an American missionary, received and cared for the rebel wounded.

About 2000 revolutionists were pitted against an equal number of loyal soldiers and it was a fair fight. Early reports that the rebels outnumbered the enemy five to one were incorrect. Only a part of the revolutionary army participated and they are claiming tonight that they would have routed completely the soldiers from the north if their ammunition had held out.

REFRESH SUPPLIES.

This evening the imperial troops are waiting reinforcements while the revolutionists are replenishing their supplies. A renewal of hostilities may occur soon, as it appears to be the plan of the rebel leaders to force the fighting before the imperial troops have been further strengthened. The latter had intended to delay an attack on Wu Chang until their numbers were sufficient to make victory probable and it had been rumored that there would be no battle before next Saturday.

The rebels who occupy Wu Chang, Hankow and Han Yang were alive to the government's purpose and during last night 2000 men crossed the Yang Tze river from Wu Chang and at daybreak they fell on the imperial camp. They attacked with dash and the government forces were unable to hold out.

Iron-Worker Falls 7 Stories to Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Simon Zoerich, a structural iron worker, 33 years old, was instantly killed at 11:45 this morning by falling from the seventh floor of a building in course of construction at Fourth and Mission streets. Zoerich was walking along an iron beam when he lost his balance and fell through to the basement. When he was picked up he was breathing and the ambulance from the Central emergency hospital was summoned, but before its arrival he was dead.

Huntington Park High School Burns to Ground

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—The new Huntington Park High school, one of the finest suburban school buildings in this section, was destroyed by fire today. The loss probably will be more than $60,000. Huntington Park is a suburb adjoining the city on the southeast. The high school was situated a short distance from the municipal line away from the fire plugs and the school supply of water was inadequate to combat the flames.

Chicago Branch Will Move to New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The Chicago branch of the Harriman lines under Vice-President Kruttschnitt and traffic director Spence will be brought to New York after the first of the year. The staff will have 40,000 feet of floor space on the twenty-fifth floor of a downtown skyscraper. The rental for the new offices is nearly $100,000 a year.

Giants-Athletics Game Off On Account Wet Grounds

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—The National commission at 11:40 officially declared today's game off on account of rain. There will be a game here tomorrow, if the weather permits.

The four umpires inspected the playing field at Shibe park and left for the National commission headquarters in an automobile at 11:20. As they left the ground, Umpire Brennan said that the game was off for the day, but that the official announcement would have to be made by the National commission. To none more than to the world's champions of 1910 was the postponement disappointing. Flushed with yesterday's victory at New York, the fighting American Leaguers expected to go into today's game and make it three out of four. Bender was expected to pitch. Now that Plank and Coombs each have a winning game to their credit, the Indian is extremely anxious to hang a scalp to his own belt.

Army Man Kills Himself Over Broken Engagement

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Oct. 18.—Captain Winfred F. Carr of the army service schools at Fort Leavenworth was found shot dead this morning by a maid who entered his quarters to clean house. It is believed the officer shot himself late last night or early this morning. An army revolver with one chamber empty was found near the body.

Captain Carr was to have been married to Miss Jeanette Frances Clark, daughter of Major and Mrs. Charles C. Clark of Fort Sheridan, Ill., but the engagement had been broken. It is supposed this caused the officer to take his life.

If You Are a Knapp Brother Awake and Grab $84,000

ST. PAUL, Oct. 18.—If there are two persons in St. Paul or elsewhere by the name of R. S. Knapp and F. B. Knapp they are heirs to $84,000 for doing an act of kindness to a man now dying in a hospital on the Yukon river in Alaska. At least a letter written by the man, who signs himself as Thomas Lynch, on his deathbed, and received by a local paper, so states.

The letter says: "Please notify R. S. Knapp and F. B. Knapp that there is $84,000 which I leave to them. They took care of me two weeks when I was sick, and I want to pay them for it. I have been in Alaska nine years and have made a stake. I have but a few more days or weeks to live."

William F. Herrin Is On Road to Recovery

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—William F. Herrin, chief counsel for the Southern Pacific railroad, is reported today to be on the way to recovery at the Southern Pacific hospital. Dr. Ainsworth gave out a very favorable bulletin at noon and unless unforeseen complications should arrive the prominent attorney and clubman should be out again within a few weeks.

Seismic Shock Felt Along Alaskan Coast

CORDOVA, Alaska, Oct. 18.—An earthquake shock of several seconds' duration was felt here yesterday. The tremor was not as severe as that of September 21 and no damage was done. The earthquake was felt along the southwestern Alaskan coast.

ermment troops, taking somewhat at a disadvantage, responded loyally. The fighting was severe, but it is impossible to estimate the casualties as the correspondents were not permitted near the firing line and those who witnessed the battle from the river were fired on.

FIRE ON WARSHIPS.

At the first sound of firing, Admiral Sah Chen Ping, in command of the Chinese warships, ordered men landed to support General Chang Piao, formerly commander of the troops of the Wu Chang district, who had assumed command of the imperial troops. The rebels had anticipated this move by the fleet and directed a hot fire on the warships and the landing parties from the Wu Chang bank of the river. Admiral Sah, in turn, ordered the warships to fire on the rebel field pieces, and for a time shells fell thick among the rebel gunners. The warship officers, however, were seriously handicapped by the danger to the foreign concessions involved in their fire.

Two foreign newspaper correspondents narrowly escaped with their lives. They had been cruising on the river in expectation of the battle and their launch had been fired upon by the imperial camp when the hostilities began. Presently they found their little craft alongside Admiral Sah's flagship and between the fire of the two forces.

From that spot the correspondents witnessed the fighting until Admiral Sah, observing the danger of their position, ordered them out of the firing line. The launch and its crew withdrew and as they did so they were fired on by men who had been landed from the warships. Fortunately, comrades of their assailants intervened; the shooting ceased, and the correspondents escaped unharm.

CONTINUOUS HOURLS.

The engagement continued several hours, while the combined land and ship forces of the imperials were driven some distance back and the rebels, retreating, re-crossed the river to Wu Chang.

Some of the rebels applied at the foreign concessions to learn whether they would be protected if they entered the concessions. The foreign forces are, however, concerned with the protection of foreign interests only. No trouble at present is expected. The shells from the fleet were comparatively few and did no great damage.

The reinforcements from the north are expected tonight. The imperial troops concentrated north of the city when the firing ceased. The general situation has not been greatly changed by the battle and continues grave.

Important Cities Reported Captured

SHANGHAI, Oct. 18.—It is reported here that the city has been captured by both Nan King and Kiang Kiang, but official confirmation is lacking. It is stated there have been a number of secessions from the government troops.

Amoy in Path of Revolutionary Heads

AMOY, China, Oct. 18.—The war scare reached this city today through the receipt by several native commercial organizations of dispatches warning them that Amoy was to be seized shortly by the revolutionary leaders. The dispatches were unsigned, but purported to come from revolutionary headquarters. They contained assurances that there would be no interference with commercial interests.

It is generally believed that any successful movement against Amoy must come from within the city, as its isolation on a strongly fortified island makes its position apparently impregnable to assault from without.

U. S. and Japan Face Blame for Rebellion

TOKIO, Oct. 18.—Despite the assurance given both by the Chinese government and the revolutionary provinces that the rights of foreigners would be respected, officials here regard the situation as likely to develop phases alarming to outside nations.

The maintenance of a scrupulous impartiality is the difficult task at times and it is certain that any suspicion of interference on the part of foreigners would arouse tremendous agitation against the Chinese.

Some feeling against Japanese at ready has been noted at Peking, where Chinese merchants and financiers have freely asserted that Japanese incited the revolution in order to create a crisis which would prevent the American-European loan.

In revolutionary circles there are reports that Japan is aiding the imperial government and this impression has created antagonism against Japanese in the south and is said to have resulted in the beginning of an anti-Japanese boycott in South China. Still another charge which is likely to cause trouble for the Americans is that the United States encouraged the revolution by its insistence of the hated railway loans.

Every indication, official or otherwise, points to the determination of Japan to remain absolutely neutral. It is declared in official circles that the Peking government made advances to Tokyo with a view of securing assistance against the revolutionists. But Japan replied explicitly that she would not interfere as long as her interests were not attacked. The revolutionists have been notified, however, that the iron works at Han Yang, which are under Japanese ownership, are to be regarded as distinctly a Japanese interest.

Dispatches from Manchuria seemed to indicate that the province has thus far shown no signs of uprising. The utmost caution is being exercised, however, by officials from Mukden northward.

American Consulate Is Fully Protected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The American consulate at Hankow is believed to be fully protected against mob attack, for half of the 320 men who were landed from the warships, Holens, El Cano and Villalobos, now at that port, could be landed in any emergency.

Yuan Shi Kai and Chang in Conference

PEKING, Oct. 18.—The foreign board has issued a communication to the legations and press saying: "Admiral Sah Chen Ping arrived at Hankow today with eight ships of war, and troops from the north and east are arriving at Hankow. It is expected that the capture of Hang Yang and Wu Chang will be a matter of only a few days."

Dispatches from Nanking, Chang Sha, Canton, Anking, Mukden, Kai Fong, Tientsin and Foo Chow state that everything is quiet and that there is no fear of any disturbances.

The information of the legation indicates that only the first statement of the official communication is strictly accurate. The minister of war, General Chang, is at Chang Teh, the home of Yuan Shi Kai, with whom he is in conference. Yuan Shi Kai, according to official information, has accepted the post of viceroy of Hu-Peh and Hunan provinces and has the responsibility for restoring order there. A decision as to Yuan's next move, however, has not been reached, but it is expected today.

Word was received yesterday that Russian troops have been ordered to move against the Hung Hutze bands in North Manchuria. Recently the Russians have reported that these robbers were becoming bolder.

The old regime troops were brought in from Tung Chow Chi to reinforce the depleted garrison at the capital. The order suspending passenger traffic on the railway between Peking and Tientsin has been cancelled in consequence of a widespread protest.

As a result of reports that the rebels are massacring Manchus, the local Manchu women are adopting Chinese dress. One paper here is publishing the revolutionist proclamations.

Chinese Rebellion Is Spreading Fast

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—According to a cable dispatch received here today by the Chinese Free Press, the imperial government has sent an urgent request to Chang Ming Chi, the victor of Canton, asking him to send the Southern Imperial fleet, lying at Hong Kong, to aid in the attack on the rebels at Hankow. The victory replied that he was unable to do this, owing to the threatened invasion of his own province.

Large orders have been placed in San Francisco Chinatown for the manufacture of the new Republican flag, which is a red field with a blue square in the upper corner, with a white star in the center.

FILE PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Topkuk Ditch Company Gives Liabilities as $275,278. Assets $213,974.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The Topkuk Ditch Company of Oakland admitted kuk Ditch Company of Oakland filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States Court here this morning, placing its liabilities at $275,278.75 and its assets at $213,974.64. The chief creditor is H. B. Brabner, who holds the firm's note for $181,567.94 for money borrowed and the largest asset consists of $198,500 worth of real estate.

The mine in question is located in Alaska and is considered one of the most successful of the gold-producing enterprises in that territory.

The headquarters of the corporation is in the Union Savings bank building in the city. The president is W. C. Jurgens, the well-known wine dealer, and the attorney for the company is ex-assemblyman Harry Pulcifer.

The determination to file a petition in bankruptcy was reached at a meeting of the company held in this city Monday last.

The proceedings were deemed necessary for the purpose of getting rid of certain claimants whose claims were considered invalid and who would not do anything, as is alleged, save to oppose carrying out of the proceedings.

As soon as the proceedings are disposed of the project will be pushed with energy and great results are expected.

GARLAND WILL BE MADE PROBATIONER

Was Found Guilty of Supplying Woman Prisoner With Opium.

William Garland, a carpenter, was before Judge William S. Wells this forenoon in the criminal department of the superior court, charged with supplying an inmate of the city prison with opium, and upon the recommendation of Attorney Hugh S. Aldrich the case was referred to the probation officer. Under a law passed by the last legislature Garland, in offense, which formerly was a misdemeanor, is now a felony.

The prisoner to whom the carpenter passed the opium was a woman named Wallace, with whom Garland had consorted and was intoxicated. He called at the city prison on Tuesday to see her and as he was leaving she slipped him a note, in which she requested him to supply her with opium secretly in fruit. Garland returned to the prison a day or two afterwards with a bag of bananas and found the woman and in one of the bananas was found the opium, a small quantity of the narcotic.

The carpenter was arrested and held to the superior court.

WEALTHY REALTY MEN ARE FINED

Federal Court Adjudges Trio to Be Guilty of Contempt of Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Clarence Bayon Hillman, a wealthy real estate man of Seattle, was fined $1000 and E. S. Bateman and B. H. Cook, were fined $200 and $25 respectively for contempt of court this morning by the United States Circuit Court of Appeal. Hillman was convicted in Seattle of using the mails in attempt to defraud, and following his conviction he appealed to the Circuit Court. Thereafter judges were flooded with appeals for judgment, and requested that he be given a chance, and it was on this account that the three men were brought to book for contempt of the dignity of the court. When the trio appeared before the court they were promptly administered and the alternative of a jail sentence was therefore superfluous.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 18.—At the Chi Phi house last night 14 men from Siskiyou county gathered and organized a Siskiyou club. The object of the club is to promote athletics in the high schools of that district, and to encourage graduates to enter the university.

The following officers were elected: L. M. Polke, president; Henry J. Gentry, secretary; A. J. Conrad, treasurer.

HONESTY OF BEEFES BUNGO STEERERS

John Huss of Reno Fails to "Fall" for Game of Clever Trio.

The honesty of John Huss of Reno saved him from being fleeced by a trio of bongo steerers and brought about the capture of the leader of the gang this morning. The man arrested gave the name of James Nelson, and upon being booked on a vagrancy charge, produced a bail of $1000. The police believe he will not return.

Huss was possessed for a considerable roll of the but refused to "fall for the game of the confidence men."

Huss came to Oakland from Reno, and this morning he started out to see the bongo steerers, who were waiting for him in the city. He was trailed by Nelson, who easily engaged him in conversation. "Are you going to the aviation meet this afternoon?" asked Nelson.

Huss admitted that he did not know there was to be an aviation day planned, and after some conversation, agreed to accompany his new friend to see the man birds fly. During the conversation the pair had made their way from Broadway to Jefferson park at Seventh street, between Grove and Jefferson streets.

MEETS A FRIEND.

Here Nelson met a friend, whom he introduced to Huss, and the three chatted amicably together for a few minutes. Then Nelson and the second accomplice started to amuse themselves with the innocent game of matching coins of small denomination, and invited Huss to join in the diversion. Huss explained that he did not know much about it, and would watch the game.

Suddenly accomplice No. 3 descended upon Huss and the two others, wearing a police star, and placed them all under arrest.

"You have been violating the gambling laws," he declared.

A hearing was followed, during which the two men offered to settle the matter by paying the alleged detective addresses were delivered by the police station. The alleged police officer then tried to levy similar tribute upon Huss, but here he struck the snag. He declared and talked to the police station, "Huss declared, 'I do not care, I didn't gamble, and I won't pay.'"

Intimidation failed to gain the point, although Huss was on the verge of a firm. Finally the detective, with his two gambler friends went off in arm. The police, the police, and Inspector Thomas Gallagher and Captain Thomas were detailed on the case.

until the discovery of his body this morning.

Goodwin was a former agent of the United States government's Indian department and came to California in that capacity eighteen years ago. Ten years ago he became secretary of the hardware association. Besides his wife, Mrs. Jennie F. Goodwin, he leaves a sister, Miss Ellen Goodwin, of Berkeley, and a brother, Amos G. Goodwin, of Biddeford, Me., the dead man's birthplace.

Goodwin, who was 50 years of age, went from Maine to Washington, D. C., during his early boyhood and completed his schooling, later associating himself with the Indian department of the government.

BEAUTIFUL HOME.

Shortly before the 1906 fire he moved from San Francisco to this city, where he had a beautiful home in an exclusive residence district.

C. Rulofson, former vice-president of the hardware association, and a friend of the dead secretary, declared today that Goodwin was not personally under fire before the federal grand jury but that his acquaintances with the hardware organization are strict.

"The hardware association," said Rulofson, "is being inquired into by the federal grand jury just as other combinations of business men are investigated in different parts of the country."

TEACHERS ON LAST DAY OF COUNTY INSTITUTE

"Trace on the Brain" Is Theme of Lecture Delivered at Idora Park Today by Professor Sisson

With the treading of song from "Carmen" sung by Lowell Redfield, the third and last day of the Alameda County Teachers' Institute was opened this morning in Idora park, where interesting lectures were delivered by the institute. The theme of Professor E. O. Sisson. He awakened in the minds of the teachers the desire to develop the child with whom he comes in contact. The character and habits of the instructor, whom the boy or girl has to follow, leaves its trace on the undeveloped mind of the pupil, declared Professor Sisson. His afternoon oration, "A Trace on the Brain," was a masterpiece of logic and wisdom. It closed the three days' institute, which was pronounced one of the most successful ever held in Alameda county.

"There is a desire on the part of the infant to imitate," said Sisson in his morning speech, "therefore the child must be surrounded by personalities, forms of character and conduct, which leave their mark on the brain. Habit and memory are the two great forces which develop the mind. The average human being has not a grasp on habit. The course of study and teaching have no logical truth and wisdom. The preservation of habit is one of the essential elements in the life of the child."

CENTURY'S CHALLENGE.

Professor W. Livingston spoke this morning on "The Challenge of the Twentieth Century." He said today: "Today the younger men must keep young in energy and enthusiasm or be displaced by those who can bring the pluck and push and bounding strength of youth to the work of the world. Colleges seek young professors and presidents. Cities select youthful mayors."

"The high school is the college of the common people. It is truly democratic. Here mingle the children of the rich and the children of the poor—both learning that the Lord is indeed the Maker of them all. Here experience soon teaches that there is no aristocratic caste. It is the duty of the rich to help the poor. Here the rich may become poor in spirit, and the poorest rise to the true riches of a noble character."

"For three successive winters it was my privilege to spend a couple of months in the University of Chicago. I have seen the world's great men and the great things of the world. I have seen the world's great men and the great things of the world. I have seen the world's great men and the great things of the world."

MOSHER RETURNS FROM TRIP EAST

Cashier of Central National Bank Reports Good Time On Vacation.

HARRY A. Mosher, cashier of the Central National Bank, has returned from a six weeks' vacation in the East, during which he visited many of the most important cities of that section. His journeys carried him into Canada, the United States, and the West. He found particularly worthy of note were Montreal and Quebec. In this country the cities visited were Boston, Philadelphia, New York, Washington, Hagerstown, Md., Chicago and others of the north and west. The former declares that the canyon is one of the most impressive natural sights he ever beheld and that the effect upon him was indescribable.

This Kidney Remedy Gives Immediate Relief

In 1907 and 1908, I was taken very sick with kidney trouble and being afraid of Bright's Disease, went to a prominent physician at Libertyville, Iowa. After doctoring for some time without cure or benefit, I began the use of Swamp-Root and found immediate relief, which urged me to continue the use of the medicine.

After taking several bottles which I bought at Jerico's Drug Store, in Fairfield, I became a well man and can honestly say that I have never had any signs of Bright's Disease or a return of any kidney trouble.

I am so grateful toward Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root that I never hesitate to recommend it to any one I know who is suffering with kidney trouble.

Yours very truly,
MACE CLINKINBEARD,

FEDERATION YARD TO BE GIVEN AID

Council Willing to Set Aside $100 Monthly for the Good Work.

Municipal aid for the federation wood yard, conducted to provide employment for unemployed men and give them food and lodging in return for labor, was urged by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner to the city council this morning. Turner recommended that the city appropriate $100 a month to assist in supporting this institution.

The recommendation was approved by the council and Turner was authorized to introduce a resolution appropriating the money.

ON BUSINESS BASIS.

In a statement of receipts and expenditures for the week ending with the city council this morning in connection with the application, it is shown that the institution is on a businesslike basis, and that it has been accomplishing splendid work. The following facts are shown in the detailed statement:

Receipts from sale of clothing, etc., teaming, loans returned, meals, beds and subscriptions amounted to $897.17 for December, 1910; $360.55 for January and $764.25 for February of this year.

Disbursements for food, labor, house laundry, oak and pine woods, team rent, repair work, salaries, beds, and rent amounted to $675 for December, $845.55 for January and $675 for February.

The total of subscriptions paid, December, January and February was $742.75. Receipts and disbursements January to July of this year were as follows:

Consumption Cured— Gained 45 Pounds

MR. EMIL T. SHERBERT.

Ludington, Mich. (Special): "Two years ago I consulted 19 physicians and each and every one informed me that I had about six months to live, being badly affected with tuberculosis. I started using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for relief at the suggestion of a friend, and in a day I am entirely cured, and I know it is because of this medicine, as I took nothing else. When I started using it I weighed 139 pounds, and to-day I weigh 184 pounds."—Emil T. Sherbert, 427 Dowland St.

In 1890—more than half a century ago—the formula of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey was discovered. It was also discovered that it was a great curative agent in the treatment of tuberculosis, pneumonia, grip, coughs, colds, other throat and lung troubles, and in all stomach troubles. The merit and honesty of an article that has been before the public for such a length of time cannot be questioned. Its fame has spread the world over, and it stands to-day the most celebrated and most successful medicine known.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the government as a medicine during the Spanish-American war. The genuine is sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by all druggists, grocers and dealers or direct $1.00 per large bottle. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Attorney Declares "Defendant Could Sit Mute While Prosecution Attempted to Show That Building Was Blown Up by Dynamite"

no right to inquire into things which have yet to be proven by the state and the question of qualification is to the state a collateral fact, the ultimate fact being the question of guilt or innocence of the defendant."

District Attorney Fredericks said he was satisfied with the court's interpretation. Judge Bordwell ended the brief argument by saying he would pass upon McKee's eligibility later.

"We have applied section 1076 to collateral facts—namely, that if a man can set aside the opinions based on public rumor or the newspapers he can serve and though there are challenges which we have not resisted that does not mean we concede the principle on which the defense made them," said District Attorney Fredericks.

Talesman Otto A. Jensen, a farmer, said he had a strong prejudice against labor unions. Jensen was not allowed to say whether he was "in sympathy with the Times' ideas against labor unions." He added that he had "a firm opinion as to the cause of the explosion."

CHALLENGE JENSEN.

Attorney Darrow also challenged Jensen for cause, and had a clash with Attorney Horton. Jensen said he believed the Times building to have been blown up by dynamite and that members and leaders of labor unions were responsible for it. Attorney Horton insisted that Jensen had not been shown incompetent under the statute.

"Is this man your idea of a fair juror?" cried Darrow.

Horton's reply was interrupted by Judge Walter Bordwell.

"Gentlemen! Gentlemen! We can't go ahead this way," he said.

Horton then took up Jensen's examination.

Jensen said he had read Burns' articles in the magazines.

"You have a fixed opinion that the building was blown up by dynamite through trades unions?"

"Yes."

"Do you think it probable?"

Objection to this question was sustained.

Jensen admitted that his prejudice against unions "was not against members, but the leaders," but that he believed the building was blown up by dynamite through trades unions.

Attorney Darrow then challenged Jensen for cause and it was again resisted by Attorney Horton for the state on the ground that the matter was collateral.

THINKS HIM FAIR.

"You certainly don't think Jensen is a fair juror, do you?" asked Darrow of counsel for the state.

"I certainly do," replied District Attorney Fredericks.

"Gentlemen! Gentlemen! Please do not indulge in these side comments," reprimanded Judge Bordwell.

"I only wanted to answer his question," said District Attorney Fredericks.

"The question should not have been asked or answered," replied the court.

Cross-examination of Jensen was then begun.

"Have you an opinion as to the cause of the disaster?"

"Yes," replied Jensen, "I believe the building was blown up by dynamite through trades unions."

"Some of these newspaper articles were strong?"

"Yes," replied Jensen, "I believe the building was blown up by dynamite through trades unions."

"That's all," concluded Horton for the state.

Attorney Darrow for the defense again took up the examination and Jensen reiterated that his opinion was that labor unions caused the building to be blown up by dynamite.

Judge Bordwell also withheld judgment on the Jensen case and another talesman, Seaborn H. Manning, was questioned.

Manning said he had lived in California for six years after coming from Arkansas. He said he believed in labor unions. He admitted that he had "a tolerably strong opinion on the case," which it would take "a great deal of evidence to remove."

"You have an opinion that the building was blown up by dynamite, placed there unlawfully," he was asked by Attorney Darrow.

"Yes," was Manning's reply.

May Take Month to Empanel the Jury

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Notwithstanding the fact that the trial in the McNamara case will be opened by court today had tentatively accepted six talesmen, prospects for the final empaneling of a jury within a period of less than a month were not considered bright today.

"It is true we have six talesmen already," said Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for James B. McNamara, indicted for the murder of a score of people in connection with the Times building explosion, "but these all may vanish in a single day."

The defense, Darrow added, would continue to examine for cause the remaining veniremen, but will return each day with a few questions to the talesmen previously accepted. The defense constantly is seeking to learn all about the past life of the talesmen, and an instance of its investigation subsequent to a practical acceptance in court of a talesman on Monday was that of J. W. Roberts, information having been secured the following day that Roberts once had some difficulty as an employer of non-union men. In Roberts' case, however, it developed that he said he harbored no prejudice against labor unions as a result of his experience, and since then had employed only union men.

SEEK PREJUDICE.

Two important principles have been acknowledged in court by the following day that Roberts once had some difficulty as an employer of non-union men. In Roberts' case, however, it developed that he said he harbored no prejudice against labor unions as a result of his experience, and since then had employed only union men.

The line-up of passed talesmen last night was:

J. W. Roberts, real estate dealer.
Robert F. Bain, carpenter.
H. Y. Quackenbush, expressman.
A. R. McIntosh, baker.

T. W. Adams, grocer.
G. W. McKee, retired real estate dealer.

Yesterday's rejected were:
Z. T. Platt, excused by court because of scruples against capital punishment.

Samuel R. McCreary, challenged for bias after he had said he had a fixed opinion as to whether the Times disaster was caused by a criminal act.

He said he was acquainted with Harry Chandler, son-in-law of General Harrison Gray Otis, proprietor of the Times, but never had discussed the case with him.

Edmund S. Johnson, challenged and excused. He said he was prejudiced against labor unions.

Talesman Quackenbush, it is thought, would not find himself on the final jury because he does not believe in capital punishment. Talesman Adams said he read, as a rule, the Los Angeles Times, Social Democrat and the Appeal to Reason.

COURT DELIGHTED.

Yesterday's work delighted the court, opposition counsel and the talesmen themselves. Questions propounded yesterday took few new lines. The papers read by talesman, with reference to the Times, any possible acquaintance with any of the twenty-one persons who lost their lives in the disaster, or with any survivors; beliefs as to whether the building was destroyed by dynamite or gas—these comprised the main points on which questions were asked.

Talesman McKee, however, was examined on slightly wider lines.

"You're Scotch, aren't you, or Irish?" asked Darrow.

"Scotch-Irish," replied the talesman.

"To what church do you belong?"

"The Presbyterian."

"But the fact that the defendant was a member of another denomination and came from the south of Ireland would not make any difference?"

"None at all," said McKee.

BENEFIT OF DOUBT.

The perfunctory questions as to whether a talesman can presume the defendant innocent and give him, according to the law, the benefit of any reasonable doubt, were expected to be directed to talesman again today as well as subsequently, but on the two primary principles chiefly will depend the acceptance or rejection of talesmen by the defense.

The prisoner himself is taking an inconspicuous part in the trial, the battle between the opposing attorneys, of which there are five on the defense and four associated with the prosecution, is attracting all attention.

Seated against the wall beside a deputy sheriff to one side of the aisle that divides the courtroom, McNamara has been listening carefully to the proceedings, but except when he reaches out to the court book daily, which in the last few days has been ahead of his attorneys, he scarcely has exchanged a word with any one, including counsel, except a greeting. Just behind the prisoner are sixty-four newspaper desks, nearly all of which are occupied, and just behind his ear is a little box hiding a telephone key as well as drowning his voice as it steadily clicks off the report of the trial to the outside world.

whether the dynamite or gas theory is held by them has indicated that very likely this will be one of the fortifications of the defense against the case of the prosecution.

No other principle upon which the defense intends to rest its case has as yet been formally hinted at in court by Attorney Darrow or associate counsel, nor has any direct statement been made that an attempt would be made to prove an alibi for James B. McNamara. The plan of the defense is said to comprehend first, the contention that the building was not blown up, by dynamite, but by gas, and when well along with this variety of testimony it may move to quash the indictments. In fact, motions to quash are expected to be made frequently by the defense on the assumption that the indictments are based on the dynamite explosion theory.

The case of the prosecution becomes an utter failure if they do not prove that the building was blown up by dynamite and if it appears that gas did it, it is the expressed view of Attorney Darrow, but the prosecution has refused to admit this in court, not considering its case as hinged in that manner at all. When its turn for examination of talesmen comes it is expected that some of the basic principles of the case will be divulged, but so far the state repeatedly has declared that the indictments charge McNamara with murder growing out of an explosion of the Times building and that whether the dynamite or not is a correlative matter and not the main issue. In this connection, the attitude of the prosecution is said to be that if it should prove that James B. McNamara set dynamite bombs, as alleged, under the Times building, and that the structure subsequently was destroyed, then no matter how much gas leaked on the night of the explosion, and no matter what part was played in causing the destructive fire, its case will have been established.

MAY NOT TAKE STAND.

It was said on good authority early today that James B. McNamara probably never would go on the witness stand. The hint of Attorney Darrow in court that "the defendant could sit mute while the prosecution attempted to show that the building was blown up by dynamite," is held to be a forecast of the plans of the defense to stand pat on the theory that the Times building was destroyed by gas and that their defendant knew nothing about it.

HUBBY ON SCENE AT WRONG TIME

Mrs. Alisky Says She Was Having Throat Examined When He Arrived.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18.—A singing rehearsal staged at the Poodle Dog cafe, San Francisco, into which, at the psychic moment, rushed the villain, her husband, with the dramatic cry, "I want you all to see that this is my wife!" is described by Clara Pearl Alisky, wife of Charles A. Alisky of Portland, in her divorce complaint, the details of which were told by her attorney.

Here, in substance, is the remarkable story of the young California matron, who is a sister of Maybelle Gilman Corey, wife of the steel magnate, and a 1909 and 1910 student in music at the University of the Pacific.

This summer, in May, a Mrs. Schmidt approached her with an offer to secure a singing engagement for her. She proposed a downtown dinner, to which Mrs. Alisky gave assent. On the street, apparently by accident, they met a Dr. Parker, who proposed that he accompany them.

At a cafe champagne was produced, and Mrs. Alisky, on Mrs. Schmidt's insistence, drank several glasses. From there they went to the Poodle Dog, where one Paul Dunphy joined them. Dunphy and Mrs. Schmidt went to a separate box, and Dr. Parker, left alone with Mrs. Alisky, said he was engaged to her for singing companies and requested permission to examine her throat. Mrs. Alisky, unsuspecting, assented. Dr. Parker unloosed her throatband, ostensibly to facilitate examination. A moment or two later, Alisky dashed in, calling the witnesses.

COULDS DROPPED FROM DIRECTORATE

Break With Rockefeller Interests Are Said to Be Forecasted.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 18.—The election of the board of directors of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad yesterday confirmed reports emanating from the inside that there is a conflict impending between the Goulds and the Rockefeller interests.

Two members of the Gould family, Edwin and Howard, were dropped from the board, as was Winslow S. Pierce, one of the Gould party, and three employees of the road were elected to fill their places temporarily. Edward D. Adams, representative of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, was elected, but no one of the Rockefeller party was chosen.

President Jeffery says the dummies were elected because of the need of a quorum and the absence in Europe of several directors. They will be superseded at the annual meeting of the board next month undoubtedly by Rockefeller men, but Jeffery maintains there is no fiction.

ATTACK INDICTMENTS IN ALASKAN CASES

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Arguments were made before Judge Landis in the United States district court yesterday on pleas in abatement and motions to quash indictments against Albert C. Frost, charged with conspiring with others to defraud the government of $10,000,000 in Alaska coal lands. Counsel for Frost argued that he was immune from prosecution because his books and private papers were taken by order of the court from George M. Seward, receiver for Frost, and used as a basis for the indictment.

STOCKTON VOTERS ADOPT CHARTER

Commission Plan to Be Tried for San Joaquin Valley Metropolis.

STOCKTON, Oct. 18.—The voters of Stockton yesterday ratified the new city charter, embodying the commission plan of government, the initiative, referendum and recall by a majority of 556 votes. The vote in favor of the charter was 1887, while a total of 1331 votes were cast against it. A majority vote was all that was necessary to carry the charter.

The adoption of the new charter is the culmination of a campaign begun many months ago by the Stockton Chamber of Commerce. The first efforts of the chamber to have the council call an election of a board of freeholders proved a failure. The council refused the request. A petition was then circulated and the required number of signatures secured. The petition called for a vote on amendments to the present charter, practically calling for the commission plan of government. The council compromised the matter by agreeing to call an election for a board of freeholders.

The freeholders were selected on a non-partisan basis and a charter pronounced the most advanced yet drafted is the result. It provides for the election of a mayor and four commissioners, in whom will be placed the entire responsibility of the city government. The mayor will receive a salary of $3000 and the commissioners $2500 each.

A new feature of the charter is that of making one of the commissioners city auditor. It is believed this will work out with good results. The recall, initiative and referendum also are important features.

SKULL DISPROVES DARWIN'S THEORY?

Man and Ape Descended From Common Ancestor, Says Scientist.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—The skull of what is believed to have been the oldest ancestor of the human race yet unearthed has been presented to the Academy of Sciences by Dr. Henri Martin, the archaeologist, a grandson of the French historian of the same name.

It caused a profound sensation among the members of the academy, who have previously looked upon as the most ancient. It had marked projections above the eyes and extremely strong teeth, of a shape indicating that the man who used them was undoubtedly herbivorous. Although its exact scientific value has not yet been determined, the form of the skull is thought to support the theory that man is not descended from the ape, but that both ape and man have descended from a common ancestor, the ape degenerating and the man improving. Doctor Martin thinks the skeleton belonged to one of the common ancestors.

The skull was found in the course of a long series of excavations in the department of Charente, in southwestern France. Doctor Martin has had removed to his laboratories a huge block of stone and earth from which he hopes to extract the entire skeleton undamaged. The skull, which is thought to have been used as a great treasure, and special precautions have been taken to guard it. Doctor Martin has already guaranteed that it will not be permitted to leave France.

"KID" MCCOY TAKES COUNT FROM CUPID

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—"Kid" McCoy is to marry again. His eighth love is Mrs. Edna Valentine Hein, the beautiful daughter of the millionaire head of the South American firm of Valentine Brothers. Mrs. Hein's father is called the "Honduran king" because of the great influence he has in that country. There is a romance behind the engagement. McCoy was named as co-respondent in the cross bill that Hein filed in answer to his wife's suit for divorce in April of last year. He specified six. Later he withdrew his allegations and Mrs. Hein obtained the divorce.

GROGERS' COMBINE IS KNOCKED OUT BY COURT

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 18.—In a consent decree handed down by the circuit court, northern district of Alabama yesterday, the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association, prosecuted under the Sherman law, is forbidden from associating members or those who it recognizes as wholesalers and is proscribed against conspiracy to maintain or to coerce manufacturers to fix limited selling prices.

HOLD HOPS FOR RISE.
SANTA ROSA, Oct. 18.—Thirty-five and 36 cents are being offered for hops here, but so far no sales at these figures have been made since last week. The growers are not in a hurry to sell, believing that there will be an advance in prices.

ENDURANCE TEST ENDS HERE TODAY

All Seven Entries Have Made Splendid Showing in the Hard Grind.

FRESNO, Oct. 18.—Hundreds of persons greeted the San Francisco-Los Angeles and return motorists on their arrival in this city shortly after 3 o'clock today. The 116 miles between the racing city and Bakersfield was covered by the seven contesting cars in splendid time despite the fact that long stretches of the journey lay over roads which were almost hub deep with mud and a series of dangerous chutes and holes. That considerable damage was not done to the cars is a tribute not only to the skillful drivers but to the construction of the cars. In many instances considerable amusement was furnished the motorists during the day by the nearness to which many of the passengers came to being precipitated into the road when the machines dropped suddenly into some buried chuck hole.

The cars, which unconsciously stole a march on Perry's American today by arriving at Tulare 25 minutes in advance of the pilot for the day, Jonas' car, which is identical to the one which he made the recent successful Lake Tahoe run, became lost on the Kern desert out of Bakersfield and accidentally stumbled into a short cut to Tulare. A lone tree on the desert, at which there is a fork in the road, was responsible for the incident. The other Flanders, driven by W. Gillette, is keeping up to its remarkable consistent performance and is vying with Jonas' Flanders for honors.

The Carter car resumed its journey this morning without the fan checked in at both controls with more than an hour to spare. The S. G. V. repaired its broken spring last night and continued the journey to Fresno today.

The feat that driver Matthews persists in piloting the car to the end of the run is the source of much admiration by the other contestants, as he is almost in a state of complete exhaustion from the count of the severe attack of neuralgia.

C. W. Hobson, driver of the Warren Detroit entry, became the last today after adding another successful day's run to his record. It is at this establishment in this city that the contesting cars are now housed.

Gawne's American (50) made somewhat of a record. Leaving Tulare he made the journey to this city by way of Hanford and finished practically with the other cars, although his route took him many miles out of the way.

SUFFRAGETTE IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Inventor Avers She Neglected Home for the Cause.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Declaring that his wife seldom sees her child, and that instead of staying at home and attending to its wants, she spends the day visiting suffrage meetings in New York and surrounding cities, and neglecting her duties as a mother, a militant, aggressive and violent manner the cause of woman's suffrage, Dr. Lee De Forest, world famous inventor of wireless telegraphy, through his attorney, William Maxwell, yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court of this city for divorce and made a demand for the absolute custody of the child.

He alleges that not only is his little daughter neglected by his mother, but that his wife is unfit to bring up the child, devoting her time, when she isn't advocating woman suffrage, to the practice of her profession of civil engineer.

Mrs. Nora Blatch De Forest is the daughter of Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, formerly president of the Woman's Political Union of New York. Mrs. De Forest's grandmother, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, was the first great leader for woman's suffrage in this country.

Mrs. De Forest said when asked about her domestic troubles last July, "The first words I taught her were 'votes for women.' Don't she look neglected?" It is these sentiments and expressions that Dr. De Forest particularly objected to.

"You see, nothing but suffrage!" he exclaimed when he read his wife's statements made to New York reporters. "She can't see or hear or talk anything but suffrage."

RAILROAD PAY CHECKS FORGED BY HUNDREDS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18.—Wholesale forgery of pay checks of the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation Company has been perpetrated by a gang of thieves and headquarters apparently in Seattle, and thousands of dollars have been cleaned up by them within the last twenty-four hours. These forged pay checks began arriving from Seattle yesterday morning, being received by Portland banks from their correspondence. The forgeries were first discovered by a teller in the United States National Bank.

The extent of the scheme, probably never will be known and the extent of the field of operations cannot be estimated for a day or two. As the pay checks of the railroad go to all the stations and section hands, the possibilities of the forgery and the confusion which will result are manifest.

COLONIST TRAFFIC IS HEAVY FOR SEASON

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Officials of the Harriman lines report that the passenger business obtained during the past rate period, which ended on October 15, was very satisfactory, and that statistics will probably show that the number of passengers carried will exceed the record made a year ago.

There was an exceptionally heavy movement through the Omaha gateway to Pacific coast points. The Union Pacific made a feature of special colonist trains, and on this account it is said a very large number of colonist travelers went to California over that line. These trains were operated three times a week during the colonist period, which extended from September 15 to October 15.

CITIES' LEAGUE SOON TO MEET

Santa Barbara to Be Scene of the Annual Convention.

The fourteenth annual convention of the League of California Municipalities will be held in Santa Barbara from October 23 to 28. Simultaneously the California State Board of Health, including all county and city health officials, will be in convention.

One of the most important addresses of the convention will be by Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, on "How the Cities Can Aid the Exposition." Eric Lange, mayor of Burlington, will talk on "A Model City at the Exposition." Moving pictures showing the progress of San Francisco since 1905 will be shown by the San Francisco Supervisors.

Mayors, city engineers, city auditors and city attorneys of most of the cities of size in California will attend the municipal gathering. There will be three departments—engineers, councilmen and street superintendents—attorneys, clerks, auditors and assessors. They will meet for discussion separately, in addition to the general sessions.

Subjects listed by the health men for their meeting includes: "Uniform Methods of Enforcing the New Vaccination Law," "Infant Mortality in California," "New Regulation for Reporting Communicable Diseases and Occupational Diseases," "A Report on the Compensation and Required Duties of Local and County Health Officers in California."

THREE WORKERS' SESSIONS PLANNED

Prohibitionists of State to Talk Over Future of the Party.

The Prohibitionists of this State will hold three workers' conferences during this fall and early winter. The first conference will be held at Turlock, and the date is fixed for November 2. The second will be held November 21, probably in Oakland. The last one will be in Los Angeles on December 12.

Prohibition party leaders will be present, including M. W. Atwood, nominee for lieutenant governor in the last campaign; C. E. Moore, of Oakland; C. J. Kinn, managing editor of the Pacific Prohibitionist; State Chairman James H. Woertendyk; E. E. Mesage of Berkeley, nominee for governor in the last campaign; Rev. F. W. Emerson of San Francisco, and A. C. Banta, State grand chief temple of the I. O. O. F.

Already much interest is being manifested in these meetings, and the move for a dry State will doubtless be supported from all parts of California.

The railroads have arranged to make a reduced rate for those wishing to attend these conferences.

Such topics as "What of the Future of the Prohibition Party?" "The Present Local Option Law—Its Relation to the Prohibition Party," "Should the Prohibition Party Endorse the Nominees of other Political Parties Under any Circumstances?" "The 150,000 Conditional Voters' Pledge Movement, Its Importance and Possibilities," are among the subjects which will be discussed. All temperance workers are urged to attend these gatherings, and take part in the discussions.

MEN IN FRAIL SKIFF SHOOT CANYON RAPIDS

GREEN RIVER, Utah, Oct. 18.—Emerson and Ellsworth Kolb of Grand Canyon, Arizona, who are attempting to journey by boat from Green River, Wyo., to the Gulf of Mexico, arrived here yesterday after thrilling experiences in the canyons of Green river, which is swollen by recent rains.

The cedar skiff in which they are making the voyage overturned in the rapids of Ladors canyon, but they escaped with the loss of their provisions and a part of their equipment. They have covered 400 miles of the journey.

They will recitify here and continue their voyage. They are confident of their ability to shoot the rapids of the Grand canyon.

POWER CONCERN RUSHES NEW LINE TO STOCKTON

STOCKTON, Oct. 18.—The San Francisco and Sierra Power company yesterday announced that after the Board of Supervisors had granted a franchise over the company's route from Manteca to Stockton, that inside of 60 days electricity would be furnished consumers here. For the past two weeks the company has had agents making the rounds of the business section securing contracts, and they will continue to work.

It was stated that fully $300,000 will be expended in placing on the newest underground systems in the State in the streets of Stockton. The officials of the San Francisco and Sierra Power company say they are here to stay.

ESCAPING YOUTH SHOT TO DEATH

One Watchman Kills Boy Who Tries to Sneak Away in Darkness.

IONE, Oct. 18.—Herman Huber, committed from Sacramento county, was shot and killed by the night watchman last night while trying to escape from the Preston School of Industry. The watchman fired blindly in the dark when the break was made by Huber and a companion and the charge of shot struck the boy and killed him almost instantly. Huber tried just before the boys were called into the dining room to sneak away under cover of darkness. He had successfully passed all but the night watchman. The watchman did not get a clear view of the boy and says he fired merely to notify Superintendent Dutton of the escape.

Superintendent Dutton, hearing the shot, immediately began a search and found the body of young Huber lying in a field adjoining the school. He died before medical aid could be rendered.

Huber was a member of a family prominent in Sacramento.

Effect of the President's Speeches.

Champ Clark says President Taft is injuring himself by the speeches he is making on his western tour. Very few of those who have had the good fortune to hear the President speak will agree with the Speaker. It is true that the President has discussed public matters with great frankness, but he has so far made no statements which his adversaries can seize upon and utilize for political capital.

His speeches have been singularly free from bitterness, rhodomontade and what is generally styled buncombe. He has addressed his hearers in lucid, direct terms, explaining his views and purposes with a candor that admits of no misunderstanding. No President has ever made a stronger appeal to the good sense and patriotism of his countrymen. At different places he has taken up every question of importance and discussed it with perfect freedom and sincerity. His plainness and directness of speech impressed his audiences most favorably. It was the sort of talk the people like. It will be better appreciated the more it is thought over.

It is idle to suppose that the President repels by being open, candid and sincere in having speech with the people. He cannot injure himself by talking to the people in a language they can understand and in terms which elevate their self-respect.

That the people have been gratified at the President's frankness is evident to every person who has taken the trouble to make inquiries in the communities through which he passed. By his plain-speaking the President illuminated many questions that were clouded or dimly understood. Points that appeared knotty became clear after he had explained them. If there was no fire in his speeches, there was no fustian, no obscurity and no befogging of issues with metaphors and flights of rhetoric. In common parlance the President is as plain as an old shoe and his efforts have been directed to informing the people of what has been done, how it has been done, and why it has been done. Everywhere he touched the chord of understanding if not the chord of sympathy.

His talk about arbitration is an example of his method. He made perfectly clear the points of difference between himself and the majority of the Senate committee on foreign relations. Everybody who heard him was instructed, not only as to his purposes, but as to the reasons which actuated him in negotiating the treaties in their present form. His desire to make everything plain was evident, and it inspired respect. It could not do otherwise, for people like to be talked to sensibly and candidly. They are insensibly drawn to a man who takes them into his confidence and appeals to their common sense. Candor is the hallmark of sincerity and candor is the conspicuous quality in the President's public talks. It is a quality that runs through his character, and it bespeaks an innate confidence in the sober judgment of the people. It is a quality that is bound to tell with the people in the long run.

Naturally Champ Clark would like to belittle the effect of the President's speeches. He is a leader of the opposition, and is a receptive candidate for the Presidency. He hopes to see Taft defeated and a Democrat elected to succeed him in the White House. Hence when he says the President is injuring himself he utters a desire and not a candid opinion. The wish is father to the thought. He hopes the President is injuring himself and therefore says he is injuring himself. But those who have heard the President know better. They know that the President is making himself stronger with the people by discussing public affairs with them soberly, candidly and sensibly.

Justice Harlan's death takes the sting out of the reproach Colonel Bryan leveled at the President for not making the Kentucky jurist Chief Justice at the time Hon. Edward D. White was appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Chief Justice Fuller. While Judge Harlan was apparently hale and vigorous, his great age was a convincing argument against making him the presiding officer of the Supreme Court. Had he been appointed instead of White, the President would now be under the necessity of selecting another Chief Justice. But Colonel Bryan never took any interest in Justice White's promotion till the dissenting opinion in the Standard Oil case was rendered. Then the Nebraska politician began asking why Harlan was not appointed. By implication and insinuation his questions reflected on the integrity of the present Chief Justice. They were asked for political effect. They were prompted by Judge Harlan's dissenting opinion in the Standard Oil cases. It was not regard for Judge Harlan, but a purpose to utilize him in the service of partisan politics that induced Colonel Bryan to interrogate the President as to why White was selected in preference to Harlan.

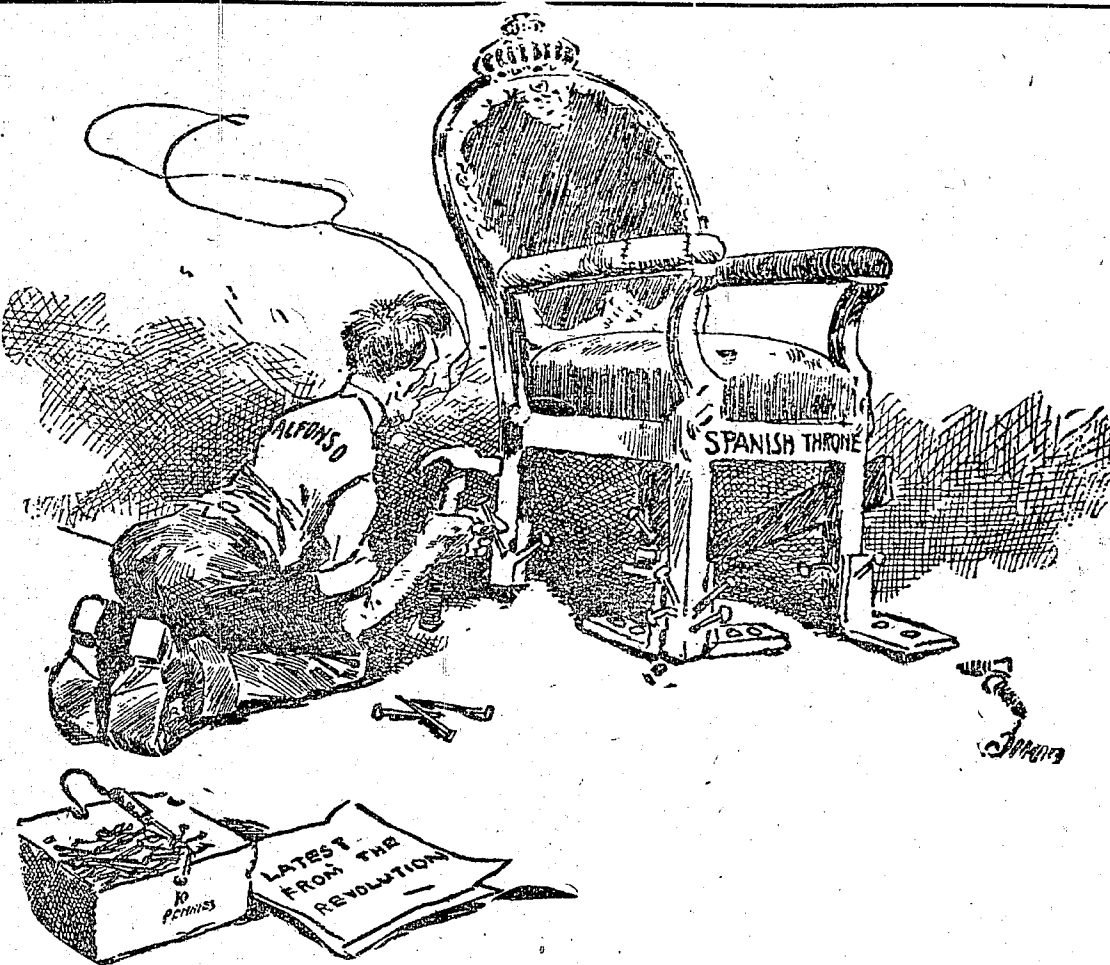

The Mystery of the Maine.

It begins to look as the truth about the sinking of the Maine would never be made clear. The army engineers take a view directly opposite to that taken by the naval experts, but the army men are more positive than the naval men, who are rather too gingerly in supporting their contention to be convincing. Secretary Meyer is inclined to the opinion that the Maine was sunk by an external explosion, but he presents his view in a mildly argumentative fashion which indicates that he is not thoroughly convinced himself. It is a visible sign of weakness that he should fall back on the theory that the ship was sunk by an explosion of smokeless powder. That of itself is a conclusion and not a demonstrated fact. But the Maine carried no smokeless powder and it is rather comforting to believe that she was blown up by smokeless powder. But the truth of the matter is in doubt for all that is said on either side. Whether the Maine was destroyed by accident or malicious design is dependant upon whether the explosion was external or internal. That is precisely what we cannot find out and upon which the experts disagree. But certain visible signs in the torn hulk lead the army engineers to conclude that the explosion was internal. The naval experts explain these evidences away and by deduction rather than demonstration prove negatively that the explosion was external. The question would be settled beyond cavil if it could be proven that the ship was destroyed by a smokeless powder explosion. The issue is complicated by the obvious fact that there may have been two explosions—one external and the other internal—the latter resulting from the former and following with almost instantaneous rapidity. However, the investigation is not closed yet, and possibly the truth may finally develop before the inquiry is over. It is a mystery that all the world would like to see solved.

The impression is gaining ground that Uncle Ike Stephenson had his leg pulled. He certainly spent a lot of money that did not help his election.

Every American heart will feel a thrill of gratification at the news that the Oregon is again in commission and ready for sea duty. She has been reconstructed and refitted and will take her place as the only battleship of the Pacific squadron. President Taft's announcement that the Oregon will be the first ship to steam through the Panama canal has given great joy to the people of the Pacific Coast, hence the interest taken in her return to active sea service. As the President said, the voyage of the Oregon around the continent during the war with Spain made it plain to the people of the United States that the isthmus must be pierced as a matter of self-protection. The canal became a military necessity, while the acquisition of the Philippines made it more than ever a commercial necessity.

GETTING READY FOR ANOTHER CYCLONE

The Detroit Free Press reminds Champ Clark that Samuel J. Tilden declined a nomination for President in 1880, and even went so far as to say that he would refuse to accept the nomination if the convention should nominate him. When he made that declaration there was every prospect that he would be elected. But the Free Press might have cited a still more glittering example for the instruction of the Missouri statesman. George Washington did not decline a nomination, but he declined the Presidency for a third term. Had he not absolutely refused to serve again he would undoubtedly have been elected for another term.

Once more Colonel Bryan rises to remark that he will not again be a candidate for the Presidency, but he neglects to say whether he will insist upon naming the Democratic candidate. If Colonel Bryan follows his usual course of knocking any candidate not proposed by himself, the Democrats may as well give up hope of electing their candidate for President next year. Bryan is strong enough to defeat any Democrat he disapproves of, and it will be quite impossible for the Democrats to elect a candidate who will be known as Bryan's man. It seems to be a case of the devil or the deep sea with our Bourbon friends.

NEWSPAPER GOOD FAITH

When William E. Curtis died in Chicago this week at the age of 61, the thing which seemed "most important" in his life, crowded with incident, was that while he was still a stripling, a Missouri outlaw and desperado "took his word" as a newspaper reporter, when at the time it was a matter of life and death for both desperado and reporter.

This was what Jesse James thought of the good faith of the "newspaper business." It is a matter of Missouri history that after the worst faith possible failed to rid Missouri of outlawry, the confidence of outlaws in the good faith of a newspaper writer they had never seen was decisive. It was the word of the late Frank R. O'Neil, who died in the service of the Post-Dispatch, on which the last member of the "James gang" relied for fair play when it was advertised that large sums of money would be paid for him, "dead or alive." If such instances are no longer modern they do not seem exceptions to the rule of public confidence in the faith of newspaper writers. There are lamentable exceptions, as the public knows. But the public knows they confirm the rule of good faith.

No one needs to be told newspaper shortcomings. There are more than enough of them. Let them have all the publicity: it is "newspaper business" to give everything which can be given the public in "good faith." But men who can deserve the confidence the public feels in newspaper good faith, can also feel confident that no matter what is said of them, the public is not really undervaluing them on their merits.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

EDISON SUMS UP EUROPE

Mr. Edison comes back from Europe more convinced than ever of the superiority of his own country and urges that every American business man ought to have the benefit of a summer spent abroad as he has spent his.

The estimate is that $300,000,000 is expended annually by residents of the United States who take trips to Europe. It is by no means all economic loss, as is generally considered. The American abroad finds that, hard as is the condition of many in our large cities, it does not approach the misery of the masses in insular or continental Europe. Many phases of politics here looked upon as embodying conservative ideas would be regarded as ultra-radical over there. If he is impatient with the slow progress of ameliorative movements at home, he will be consoled with the almost imperceptible advance of even the most necessary reforms in the older countries.

Of course, some come back in a very different frame of mind from that of Mr. Edison. Reasoning from imperfect observation and only half truths, they may be filled with discontent because of censorious comparisons based on social and other advantages of small value. But, generally, they return better citizens, more appreciative of their own country's strong points and more tolerant of their own weaknesses. No small part of that $300,000,000 is well spent.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

IS ROCKEFELLER "SUCCESS?"

John D. Rockefeller's recipe for success is "to pick one thing and stick to it." The advice is sound enough but a question will arise as to the capacity of the adviser to give counsel on this subject. Does Mr. Rockefeller really know what success is?

Most people, no doubt, will regard the creator of Standard Oil as an eminent authority on success. Surely the man who built up the industrial concern which was the world's wonder and through which he accumulated the largest American fortune must be thought to have an intimate acquaintance with its principles. Yet having erected this great commercial fabric and strengthened it with every resource of capital to make it endure, he has seen it dissolved at the mandate of the courts. He has witnessed its disintegration at the time of its greatest power and prosperity and seen as well the abandonment of the principles on which it was founded.

Success in the true sense should possess some degree of stability and permanence and these qualities have been lacking to Mr. Rockefeller's life-work. The monument he erected to carry his fame to posterity has not endured through his own lifetime. It has crumbled to pieces and with it has collapsed the Rockefeller tradition.—New York World.

Brevity is also the soul of a sermon. Many a fellow's only source of income is a lachry.

An actor may be an artist in spite of the fact that he doesn't always draw.

WISDOM OF AKED

The eloquent Dr. Aked came to New York from across the water, and in two years came to the limit of that city as a field for religious effort. By that time, having grown wise enough to instruct Americans in American affairs, he came to San Francisco, where he has been enlightening us as to our political duties. His latest experience has been a vacation trip to Salt Lake, where he found out more than the officials of the government have been able to discover in a search extending over several years. He assures us that there is practically no polygamy in Utah, though curiously his testimony on this score is in contradiction of that of the head of the Mormon church, both of Utah's senators, and many other well-known authorities. The good doctor, it appears, was able to find out more on a brief vacation trip than anybody else has been able to find out by years of close inquiry. Talents like these are worth while. San Francisco is to be congratulated upon the possession of a man who, even though still a comparative stranger, knows more about things than others who have spent their lives in investigation and study. The doctor does well to speak freely now, for with more time and further study he may not know so much.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Sunshine and Strikes

Some of the English hygienic experts asserted recently that the labor upheaval in the United Kingdom, with its attendant strikes and with the general disarrangement of the nation's normal life, was due primarily to the extraordinary heat wave, which made the people bad humored. This is now disputed by another expert, who declares that "a new spirit of courtesy" is observable among Englishmen as a result of the many days of warm sunshine.

Northern races, being used to leaden skies and dull, rainy weather, and subjected to severe weather conditions in the winter, tend to produce in the long run, according to the doctor, hardy, stubborn, self-contained, rather melancholy, but cool-headed and businesslike men—the thinkers and the fighters; whereas the southern climes favor poetry of living, joyousness, gallantry and produce passionate, warm-hearted, quick-tempered men and women. The great difference in temperament between the Swede and the Spaniard is due, the doctor thinks, almost entirely to the influence of the sun.

It puts a rather severe strain upon one's credulity to believe either that the hot spell in England caused the strike or that it effected any change in John Bull's attitude toward the workman. A comparatively brief period of either hot or cold weather does not suffice to alter a nation's character or even its manners. Besides, not all northern peoples have brusque manners. The Eskimos and the Laplanders are exceedingly affable.—Boston Globe.

SAYS CHAMP

Politicians, says Champ Clark, as a rule are honest. And this from a man who hails from Missouri.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

Champ Clark defends politicians. But Champ is evidently not very well acquainted with the Tennessee brand.—Knoxville Sentinel.

Or to put it more tersely, Mr. Clark, the need of this country is more politicians of an entirely different kind.—Indianapolis News.

Champ Clark says the country hasn't half enough politicians yet. Champ is somewhat mixed on the functions of statesmen and politicians, builders and barnacles.—Milwaukee Journal.

People who never heard about a subject till yesterday want to dispute about it today with a man who has known it all his life.

DISAPPEARING BRIGADIERS

The death of Brigadier General Charles F. Anderson of Nebraska, who was United States senator for two terms and president pro tempore of the Senate during the last part of his service there, calls attention to the disappearance of the Union soldier from the Senate. Twenty years ago there were at least twenty generals in that body. At the present time there are no senators who ever were Union or Confederate generals. The highest officer in the service was Henry Algonon du Pont of Delaware, who was a brevet lieutenant colonel in the Union army. All the others were privates. There are four who served in the Confederate army, not including Tillman of South Carolina, who was refused because of his eyesight, and there are four who served in the Union army, including Bradley of Kentucky, who ran off twice to war, and was in the ranks but a short time, being reclaimed by his father before he really saw any service. The full list of ex-Civil war soldiers in the Senate is as follows:

Alabama—John Hollis Bankhead, Joseph Forney Johnston, both Confederate soldiers.

Delaware—Henry Algonon du Pont, in Union army, brevet lieutenant colonel.

Georgia—Augustus Octavius Bacon, captain in the Confederate army.

Kentucky—William O'Connell Bradley, joined the Union army.

Louisiana—John Randolph Thornton, private in the Confederate army.

Minnesota—Knut Nelson, private in the Union army.

Wyoming—Francis Emery Warren, private in the Union army.

Senator Anderson was a man of brilliant parts, fine appearance and splendid elocution. He was accustomed to read Washington's "Farewell Address" on February 22, and was very well liked in the Senate because of his fine personal qualities. He was hardly, however, a typical Nebraskan because he was more allied with the railroad interests than that state likes to see, and since his retirement in 1895 he has been the general solicitor of the Burlington railroad, with headquarters at Omaha. It would be interesting to know how many brigadier-generals in the Union army are still alive.—Boston Transcript.

MAN AGAINST BEAST

The conflict between man and wild beasts in India continues to be waged on an increasingly tremendous scale. Year by year the number of savage or noxious animals slaughtered by men increases, and year by year the number of human beings who fall prey to such creatures also increases. By far the largest items in both accounts pertain, of course, to snakes, but the doings of many other creatures also figure largely. The grand total of all in 1908 was 21,904 persons killed by beasts and 88,662 beasts killed by men. In 1909 the deaths were 23,860 human beings and 105,859 animals, and in 1910 they were respectively 24,878 and 110,386.

It is of interest to note that last year only 23 wild elephants were killed, while 55 persons were killed by them, the figures in both cases being about the average for some years past. Eryenas killed 25 persons, presumably chiefly children, while 414 of the beasts were slain. The "gray brothers" of Mowgli are still numerous and destructive, for 3114 wolves were killed. Bears killed 109, and themselves were killed to the number of 2222. Leopards were charged with the deaths of 351 persons, and 5029 of them were slain. The balance between the number of human and animal victims was closest in the case of tigers, for while only 1421 of these dreaded man-eaters were killed, they killed no fewer than 855 human beings. As for snakes, 110,386 of them were killed, and the appalling number of 22,478 persons fell victims to their venom. These are the statistics of a country which is still only partly civilized, and of which a large proportion is still overgrown with savage jungle and forest. It would be instructive to compare them with the statistics of disease and death in this country which are due to wild creatures of very different kinds, the flies and mosquitoes, which are purveyors of agues, fevers, typhoid, cholera, and other of our deadliest plagues, and which continue to exist and to play their destructive trades largely through the carelessness, the slovenliness and the wilful ignorance of those who tolerate them.—New York Tribune.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

The teachers in the Oakland school department are very much exercised over the decision of Judge Greene, wherein he declared that they are not elected for life and can be removed without cause at the end of a school year.

On the first of the coming month the Oakland and Berkeley rapid transit railway will pass out of existence and the Oakland Consolidated Street Railroad will be formed.

The new company will be practically the same as the old one with the exception that Secretary Hunt will be retired and Mr. Beggs, formerly receiver for the Powell street road, San Francisco, will take his place.

The music lovers of Oakland will rejoice to learn that J. H. Manning, the violinist, will give a series of ensemble concerts in the near future. There will be violin, cello and piano, and since Mr. Manning is a musician of experience and great cultivation, his selections will be of the finest quality.

From time to time stories have been going the rounds of the press of the appearance of a wild man in various parts of the state, but it remained for Eden township to produce the genuine article. The realdents of that district have seen the strange creature, and now that he is securely behind the bars they feel more at ease.

The racing of bicycles on Broadway in the evening is becoming a nuisance. Last evening an elderly man was knocked down and quite seriously injured by one of the rough riders. There is no room for bicycles on this crowded thoroughfare.

Miss Edith M. McKellan has arranged a charity art exhibition at Cavalry hall, which is creating considerable local comment and attracting many visitors. The women of the Second Congregational church served some delicious refreshments last night. There are over 100 paintings of local artists and amateurs on exhibition, and altogether the affair is a social and artistic success.

The Chabot quarry is now being worked. This gives many teamsters employment. William Metcalf has returned from his eastern visit.

Mrs. Frederick Boogie, who has recently removed from San Francisco to Claremont, says she finds it just a little bit dreary as contrasted with the metropolis.

On Tuesday night Fanny Davenport will begin an engagement at the Baldwin theater, playing "Cleopatra."

Breach of Promise Suit Replete
With Sticky Love
Letters.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Endearing terms and affectionate phrases, both written and spoken, thickened
the atmosphere of the superior court again as evidence was given and testimony taken in the $50,000
breach of promise suit
which "Ruzzie Lamb" Gar-diner, a young chorus man, has brought against Fidel Woodruff, Smith of Stamford, Conn., divorced wife of Homer Cummings, three times mayor of
that city.
Letters and postals without number were read to show
the love of the mannily Brunhilde for the youthful Slegfried.
In 1910, when Ruzzie fell ill
with appendicitis he received numerous notes of commiseration.
This is one:
"Dear, poor little honey child,
Ruzzie Lamb: Was he sick with a great big pain in his wee,
wee tummy? Cheer up,
if the doctors behave all will soon be well."
Miss Smith laughed aloud at this note. Then came a verse card:
To a land remote,
There to live or die,
Another letter finished:
"Don't forget your country pumpkin, old side partner, eye-blinking Brunhilde." Attorney Gordon
then read one which stated that "I am sending you wireless messages by the dozen, so the coil is kept warm."

Secures Divorce
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Olivia
Fremstad, the opera singer, arrived yesterday on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and through her attorney, Evan Shelby, told the reporters that she had obtained a final decree of divorce from her husband, Edson W. Sutphen, on July 11 last. The case was heard before Robert L. Luce, as referee, but did not become public until the arrival of the prima donna.
Miss Fremstad and her husband had been living apart for nearly a year when she brought suit, charging misconduct and unfaithfulness. Miss Fremstad testified that she was married to Sutphen at Salt Lake City, April 15, 1909. She said that Sutphen was in San Francisco with her at the time of the big fire, and that they were the first to escape from the city. They went to Salt Lake City at once and were married.

Romance Ended
ROSEVILLE, Oct. 18.—The youthful romance of Virginia Cosello, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cosello, and Earl Otwell, son of W. E. Otwell, both well known families of this place, who eloped and were recently married at Marysville, is found in the hands of the authorities for the purpose of the mother for Ogden, leaving her husband here. Otwell is said to be under 19 and his bride under 16. It was finally agreed that they should separate,
and the bride will go to school in Ogden for a year. At the end of that time they so desire, they are to be permitted to take up the duties of the married state. Otwell is employed in the railroad shops here.

Raises Question
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18.—Does a woman of foreign birth who has divorced a citizen of the United States lose her citizenship? That question has been raised by a Southern Californian, who has written to Secretary of State Jordan. The woman was born in Germany and thirty years ago married a San Franciscan, afterward divorcing him.
While Jordan has not answered
the question officially, the general opinion is that the woman cannot lose her citizenship
by divorce.

Stork Calls
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden on Sunday night in the Ritz
Carlton hotel.
Mrs. Burden was formerly Cynthia Roche, one of the most popular girls in New York society, and news of the event was followed by a rush of orders for flowers and many messages of con-

Incidentally little Miss Burden is the

Sent to Asylum
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Ida von
Chausson, who has been in the Bellevue Psychopathic ward for five days, was taken before Supreme Court Justice Mc-Call yesterday and committed to the Bloomington asylum upon the report that she was of unsound mind. Drs.
Gregory and Holmes, the Bellevue alienists, said she repeated her tale of the plot in which Colonel Roosevelt and others are involved, said the King of Sweden wanted her to marry his son, and that the Emperor of Germany would send her a war ship to protect her on request. She said she considered herself the most beautiful woman in the world.

Routs Hunter
SAN RAFAEL, Oct. 18.—Corte Madera boasts of a Barbara Fritche in the person of Mrs. M. J. Church, who looked into the barrel of a shotgun, unafraid, while ordering Emil Coret, a quail hunter, off the Valentine ranch. Coret, who was formerly a San Francisco policeman, was trespassing on the ranch on which Mrs. Church has been making her home, and which is owned by P. D.
Valentine, a wealthy resident of Marin county. Mrs. Church is elderly and gray, but when she saw a stranger on the premises she did not hesitate to walk up and ordered him off the grounds. Coret refused to comply with her wishes and according to Mrs. Church, the intruder became insolent and threatened to shoot her if she didn't return to the house and let him continue in his search for quail. When the woman finally threatened him with arrest the hunter retreated to the road, followed by the victorious Mrs. Church.

ture of her truant husband and 10 per cent of the value of her jewels, said to have been taken by him, Mrs. George E.

been prepared by Chief of Police Glover.
Mrs. Lewis, young and pretty, informed the police that she married Lewis two weeks after meeting him in the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco.
They set out on their honeymoon and

COMPANY SEEKS TO CUT

A certificate which authorizes the reduction of the capital of the Scott Investment company of Alameda from $1,000,000 to $100,000, was filed today in the office of the county clerk. The reduction was organized last April. The articles were filed with the secretary of State, the incorporators being George W.
Scott, president; Earl C. Scott, secretary, and Carrie D. Scott, Maud Scott Mc-Candlish, W. K. Scott, Rena Scott Baxter and Leland W. Scott, brothers and sisters and all residing in Alameda.
The amount of the capital stock paid up at the time of the incorporation was $500,000, equally divided among the incorporators.

ACCUSE FLAHERTY OF LOOTING SUPPLY STORE
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Detectives
O'Dea and Hayden this morning arrested Martin Flaherty, and charged him at the city prison with burglary for breaking into the supply store of M. Morgan, 65 Market street, on October 9. Entrance was effected by sliding down a rope through the skylight and $500 worth of clothing and jewelry were taken. The officers traced the disposal of the loot
and thus effected the capture of Flaherty, recovering a greater part of the booty.

FALLS FROM BUILDING
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Antone
Barbato, of 1244 Green street fell down from a building in the course of construction at Bush and Powell street, at 10
this morning and suffered a contusion of the back and possible internal injuries.
He was taken to the Central Emergency tan.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC EMPLOYS NEW MEN

94 Mechanical Tradesmen Are Taken On This Week
in Shops.

With the strike situation in West Oakland practically at a standstill, it was reported today by the officials of the Southern Pacific that since last Monday 94 skilled men had been employed in the yards to fill vacancies in all departments of the shops. Most of the men have come from the East.
With the exception of one or two attacks on employees, there has been no violence reported in the last ten days.
Many of the pickets have been withdrawn from the vicinity of the yards and inside work is progressing much the same as before the walkout, the railroad officials say.

WOMAN BURGLAR LOOTS CLOTHING

Has Feminine Habit of Going Through Men's Pockets.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—George M.
Libbart, a chauffeur of Stockton, awoke early this morning to see a woman closing the door of his room in the Grand hotel and discovered a few moments later that he had been the victim of a burglar.
The police have long suspected that some of the room thefts committed among the downtown hostilities were the work of a woman. This morning Libbart caught a good glimpse of her as she disappeared into the dark hallway. He found that he had been robbed of a $20
goldpiece which he had in his trousers pocket. When he ran into the corridor the woman was nowhere to be seen.

SONOMA POULTRYMEN NOT TO MAKE CONTRACT

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 18.—At a mass meeting of poultrymen members of the Sonoma County Co-operative Poultry-men's Association, E. F. Wilson and E.
F. Ferguson, the committee named to visit San Francisco and report on market conditions, made their report.
As a result, the poultrymen will not seek to make another contract until the spring storage time comes. In the meantime they will dispose of their eggs
at the best prices obtainable to individual buyers.
The Sonoma County Fruit Produce
Company, which threw up its contract with the association, is paying a forfeit of $2500 in consequence.

ROPE SNAPS, DROPPING FIREMAN TO GROUND

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The sudden snapping of a rope on the drill tower at Seventeenth and Harrison streets, this morning, caused J. F. Thompson of eight months to break his right arm. Thompson was sliding down the side of the tower in the regular drill exercises when, without warning, the cable parted, and he was dropped to the ground. He was taken to the Mission Emergency hospital.

A pretty complimentary affair was given a few days ago to Mrs. John Hobercker Jr., who before her marriage of yesterday noon was Miss Carmelita Theobald of Alameda. The affair was a silk shower.

At 4 o'clock tea was served at a uniquely decorated table which was a feature of the affair. A mirror, on the surface of which were pond lilies and little white swans with the mother swan, occupied the center of the table and represented a lake. The place cards of pond lilies carried out the suggestion, and the whole effect was enhanced by a graceful arrangement of ferns. A little original couplet, the attention of the guests to a huge stocking hung in the open fireplace of the living room, in which had been placed the gifts for the bride-elect.

Your Daughter's Teeth

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.)

WHEN I look about me and see the misshapen teeth so many young women display when they open their lips to smile I think that these girls might feel a grievance against their mothers if they only realized it was through maternal neglect that their teeth are not beautiful. Few mothers understand that it is impossible to attach too much importance to the care of their children's teeth. How many times do you hear: "O, these are just her first teeth; I will take her to the dentist and see that they get good care when she gets her second ones!" But the first teeth must be kept strong and healthy to insure a good quality in the second or permanent teeth. The first teeth nourish the second before the latter come through, and when the baby set comes out too soon the second is weakened, because the teeth lack the elements they should take from the natural supply of nourishment. If the first teeth are allowed to stay in too long the second are stained and often crooked. Indeed, the most frequent cause of uneven teeth is that the milk set is not removed soon enough, which forces the second growth out of the natural position.

If the baby teeth are properly taken care of children as a rule lose the first set at the proper time. If neglected the teeth decay and come out a long time before they should. There are, however, cases where even with the best care the first teeth stay in too long and must be pulled. A mother cannot decide this question; only an experienced dentist can tell whether the first teeth should be let alone or pulled.

One of the first things to teach a child after it is able to do anything for itself is the use of a tooth brush, and the mother should be particularly careful that the brush is the right quality and size. The aversion of most children to a tooth brush is often explained by the fact that the bristles hurt and unconsciously the idea of pain is associated with tooth brushes.

However, with the proper brush the brushing of teeth can be made into a kind of a little game which all the children will love to play and for which the prize is mother's kisses. Every mother can withhold her kisses from the child who refuses to brush her teeth. Remember, you are responsible for your daughter's health and beauty.

AZALEA—If you will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with a letter asking me for it, I will send you instructions for a simple treatment for removing superfluous hair in the nose. It should never be pulled out.

M. L. F.—You will have to work systematically and persistently to reduce the bust. Mix two grains aristol, thirty grains white vasoline and ten drops essence of peppermint and put on the bust, then cover with oiled silk. Sometimes gentle massage with spirits of camphor is very helpful. Be sure that the massage is gentle, for there is always a possibility of cancer arising from a bruise. This is a very sensitive part of your anatomy. If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and again ask for it, I will send you my dietary for reducing flesh and my rolling exercises.

L. C. R.—Undue moisture in the palms of the hands is often an expression of extreme nervousness. Sometimes the perspiration may be checked by slices of lemon squeezed on the hands after washing. If this is inefficient, try bathing them with the following lotion: Six ounces rosewater, two ounces elderflower water, one-half ounce tincture of benzoin and ten grains tannic acid. This can be applied several times a day with a bit of old linen or antiseptic gauze.

L.—Twenty grains of tannic acid and one ounce of glycerine makes an excellent wash for puffiness under the eyes. Apply to the baggy part with a camel's hair brush. Use at night. The puffiness is undoubtedly due to the kidney trouble from which you say you suffer and I doubt if you can remedy it while the cause exists. I am sending you by mail instructions for a simple treatment for coaxing obdurate blackheads from the pores of the skin.

A CONSTANT READER—If you like the luxury of softened water for bathing, yet do not care to buy any of the more or less expensive preparations which aim to attain this result, you will be glad to hear that a teaspoonful of ordinary washing soda will make the bath as gratefully soft to the skin as rainwater. It is cheap, cleansing, and if used in warm water useful in taking any pain out of the bones, though it opens the pores and makes one peculiarly susceptible to catching cold. I advise you not to use it in large quantities, but you will find it exceedingly pleasant for occasional use. Have you ever tried using bath bags? If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and letter asking me for it I will send you the recipe for a delightful, cleansing material for bath bags. They counteract the ill effects of much strong soap and hard water.

ROSINA—Indifferent indeed to the whispers of vanity must be the woman who unconcernedly regards her first wrinkles. With the advent of these lines youthful freshness departs and the whole character of the face changes. Quite naturally, therefore, for most men and women, they are among the most dreaded signs of advancing age. At the first appearance of wrinkles reliable treatment should be applied, and in this particular too much care cannot be used in choosing the right means, as incorrect facial massage aggravates the original trouble. If you will send me a letter with a self-addressed, stamped envelope I will send you instructions for scientific facial massage and recipes for an effective French eyebrow tonic, for the hair curling fluid, and for the skin food which I have used for twenty years. If you are unable to find an eyebrow brush use a small tooth brush instead.

CODE—I know of only two ways of bringing color to the cheeks. The first, and of course, most desirable is good health, and the second is artifice in the form of rouge. Good health gained by rational living is the secret of a good complexion. Exercise daily in the open air, eat simple, nourishing food and practice deep breathing exercises night and morning. Under separate cover I am sending you complete instructions for deep breathing. You might try washing your face in warm water and then cold, alternating several times. The reaction causes a rosy glow to mount to the cheeks.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

The Boy Scouts of the First Presbyterian Church of East Oakland will make a pilgrimage to the Oakland hills Saturday morning under the leadership of L. N. Brassfield, who has announced that it will be a hare and hound chase. About twenty-five lads will make the journey, which will cover a distance of about six or eight miles. They will carry provisions for the outing.

In a recent address delivered by Prof. J. W. Livingston, one of the lecturers at the Alameda County Teachers' Institute, he endorsed the Boy Scout and the playground movements, which are wielding a powerful influence over the country.

ASTOR-FORCE PASTOR SCORED BY FELLOWS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 18. — At a conference of Congregational ministers throughout Rhode Island here yesterday, a resolution was passed condemning the Rev. Dr. Lambert of that sect for officiating at the marriage of Colonel John Jacob Astor and Miss Madeline Force. The resolution declares that any clergyman who performs such a ceremony for the guilty party in divorce shall forfeit his standing in the church. The conference was the outcome of an indignation meeting of Congregationalists held at the time of the wedding. The Rev. J. R. McConnell was appointed as a committee at that time to fit upon means of removing what was termed a stigma upon the church.

BOY EDITOR SEEKS CARNEGIE FOR OAKLAND

The East Oakland Amateur Journal and newspaper has published an appeal for a new reading room as well as a library for the accommodation of the people of East Oakland. Irving Domes, editor of the paper suggested that President Taft break the ground for the new structure but the proposition was not responded to and he has propounded the question: "Will somebody be a second Carnegie?" The juvenile editor has the welfare of the community at heart and has always advocated reforms for the district in which he resides. He has a desire to awaken the minds of the men, women and children to intellectual advancement. His movements have been commended and he is receiving co-operation in his undertaking for civic betterment.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S SPECIAL TRAIN IN DANGER

LOCOMOTIVE QUEEN O. K'S. IS ALMOST DERAILED WEDDING BY PROXY

Slipping Tire on Trailer Wheel Discovered in Nick of Time.

Itinerary of President's "Swing Around Circle" Has Been Lengthened.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 18.—A serious mishap to President Taft's train was narrowly averted last night as it was crossing the desert twenty miles west of Kelso. A slipping tire on one of the trailer wheels of the locomotive was discovered by the engineer while a stop was being made for water. The tire was in such condition that it might have been thrown clear of the wheel in taking a curve at high speed when it would have been an even break as to whether the engine and several cars following would have been derailed.

Mr. Taft's car was seventh in the long train. There was a delay of more than half an hour in getting a spare engine to the isolated spot where the dangerous condition was discovered.

ITINERARY LENGTHENED.

President Taft's notable "swing around the circle," now ending its fifth week, will not end in Washington on November 15 to 18. The President will travel some 3000 or 4000 miles more than at first intended, bringing the total mileage of his tour up to between 16,000 and 17,000 miles and breaking all known records for presidential travel.

The regular itinerary of the original trip will be followed to Pittsburgh, where President Taft will spend the entire day of Tuesday, October 21. Then, instead of keeping on to Washington, Mr. Taft will go direct to Morgantown, W. Va., to spend Wednesday, November 1. From Morgantown he will go to Hot Springs, Va., to rest for five days, starting west again in time to vote at Cincinnati at the local elections to be held there November 7. The President will remain in his old home town for a day or two and will be tendered a banquet.

TENNESSEE IN VIEW.

Following the Cincinnati trip, Mr. Taft probably will go to Hodgenville, Ky., to participate in the dedication of the Lincoln Farm Memorial. There are two or three tentative dates in the itinerary following this and then it is expected Mr. Taft will return to Washington in time to prepare his message to Congress, which meets the first Monday in December. The dates of the supplemental trip have not been fixed by beyond Cincinnati as yet, but probably will be announced within the next few days.

PRESIDENT'S PERIL.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 18.—That President Taft's special train actually passed El Capitan 800-foot bridge, twenty-five miles north of here, early Monday morning, while twenty-one sticks of dynamite were in place all ready to be exploded, is the opinion expressed by George W. Inge, an expert on explosives employed by the Southern Pacific Railroad to investigate the alleged attempt at bridge dynamiting.

"It was while the man was adjusting the second charge of dynamite," said Inge, "that the Mexican bridge walker, Gomez, discovered and fired upon him. The man ran and, as it was dark, no good description of him could be given."

"It was not until later in the day that Sedit Brown discovered the presence of this charge of twenty-one sticks of dynamite with the fuse attached. There was not sufficient explosive placed to completely wreck the structure, but from what I observed, it was clearly the work of an expert."

"It seems to me that it was clearly his intention to wreck the stone abutment. Had both charges gone off, these abutments would have been totally destroyed, thus leaving the steel supports with no foundation. The first train over the bridge would surely have crashed to the bottom. But as the man was frightened away before he had time to complete his work, only the first charge of twenty-one sticks remained in place."

"After being discovered by Gomez, the man ran, leaving the fuse hanging out, but not lit. This was not found until after daylight, and as the President's train passed over the bridge at 5:51 a. m., it certainly passed over this charge of dynamite."

Wilhelmina Gives Consent to Marriage of Pretty
Miss Mack.

Prospective Husband Unable to Come; It's Hands Across the Sea.

BERKELEY, Oct. 18.—With two bridegrooms on the job, one here and the other on the island of Java, a marriage by proxy will take place during the coming holidays in the Dutch consulate in San Francisco. Miss Alice Mack, a pretty subject of Queen Wilhelmina and a special student in the University of California, becoming the bride of Louis Utermohlen, a friend of her childhood when she lived in Wageningen, Holland.

Utermohlen will be unable to take the long journey to California and be present at his own wedding. And the bride-to-be insists on being a married woman when she begins the voyage of many weeks to the faraway island where the coffee comes from, for she will have no woman traveling companion, and she has no feminine friends in Java to greet her as a chaperone. So an elaborately sealed document from the girl queen of Holland, giving her consent to the wedding, and another from Utermohlen, declaring not only his willingness, but his soul-consuming desire to wed the fair-haired daughter of the dike land, will arrive here in due season, and then the second bridegroom, Mr. Proxy, will be selected by Miss Mack. George Marsdy, Dutch consul in San Francisco, will do the rest.

WHO IS HE TO BE?

Miss Mack is not yet ready to announce who the dummy groom is to be. Whoever he is, his only consolation will be in the scriptural truism that not all are chosen who are called.

Dutch subjects may wed only in church or in Dutch consulates. Irrespective of American marriage laws, the unique ceremony in Consul Marsdy's offices will be "perfectly legal," says pretty Miss Mack.

"And then we are to have a church wedding when I reach Java, which is a Dutch possession," she added, when she consented to tell of the nuptial plans at the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert Mack, 3095 Telegraph avenue, today.

The Holland girl came to Berkeley from her native land more than a year ago, and about the same time Utermohlen went to Djoewana, Java, to become under director of a ship-building concern.

GIVES VERSION OF BIBLE FROM LAWYER'S VIEW

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 18.—A joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. will be held on the night of October 20, for the purpose of hearing an address by J. F. Rutherford, a prominent lawyer of New York city, on the subject of "The Bible From a Lawyer's Viewpoint."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The victim of a horrible accident on the steamer Harvard at 8 o'clock this morning, A. Vanderberger of Fruitvale, the engineer of the vessel, is lying probably fatally injured, at the Harbor Emergency Hospital.

The Harvard, bound to this city from Los Angeles, was several miles out this morning when Vanderberger climbed up to oil the machinery on the top of the shaft. He lost his balance and, falling, was impaled on a sharp iron rod.

The firemen and the first assistant engineer went to his aid and everything possible was done for him by the attaches of the vessel. A wireless message was sent to the Harbor Hospital and the ambulance met the Harvard on its arrival at the docks.

Vanderberger was rushed to the operating table and the physicians worked over him in an effort to save his life. The spark-like rod pierced far into the vitals of the unfortunate man, but the doctors are of the opinion that there is a slight chance to save his life.

CHICKEN TOO COSTLY FOR SOLDIERS EMPLOYMENT AGENCY IS WRECKED

Uncle Sam's Commissary Cuts
Delicacy From Army's
Bill of Fare.

The New Ration Will Also Be Minus Turkey Except at Big Holiday Feasts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The elimination of chicken from the United States soldiers' menu, the limitation of turkey to Thanksgiving and Christmas, the substitution of so-called "field bread" for hard tack and the abolition of the field ration, sum up the important changes in the army ration for the American soldier made during the last year, according to the report of Commissary General Sharp.

The elimination of chicken has resulted in a yearly saving to the government of $52,000.

The daily average cost of the rations issued during the year in the United States alone was 22.75 cents; Alaska, 38.89 cents; Hawaii, 24.10 cents; Porto Rico, 28.72 cents; aboard transports, 23.52 cents; American soldiers in the Philippines, 25.25 cents, and the native soldiers in the Philippines, 14.57 cents.

The report shows the yearly cost per man in the United States to be $105.96 and in the Philippines $114.21.

The experimental farm conducted at Camp Vicars, P. I., to determine whether potatoes could be raised successfully in the Philippines has proved the unfeasibility of such a project.

The yield averaged 22 bushels to an acre, but only 14 were fit for consumption.

Office During the Night.

Scores of Buildings, Including
City Hall, Are Severely Shaken.

SPOKANE, Oct. 18.—Dynamiters wrecked the office of the Sun Employment Agency on Front avenue last night. The explosion shook scores of other buildings, including the city hall, four blocks away. The entire street within a block each way of the office was littered with broken glass and wood and sections of corrugated iron, of which the walls of the building was composed. No one was injured, although a number of persons were in the immediate vicinity. The total damage is estimated at several thousands of dollars. The mas Goodwin, proprietor of the employment agency, said:

"The last few weeks I have been advertising for men to take places left vacant on the Harriman lines, but no one has ever said a word to me about furnishing strikebreakers that would cause me any alarm, and I have not furnished more than fifteen, or twenty men. My own sons are union men, and I don't think the unions were behind this act. Mine is the only local agency furnishing strikebreakers."

ANGRY WORDS STIR COUNCIL MEETING

Hammond Assails Councilman Morgenstern; Says He Is "Four-flusher."

ALAMEDA, Oct. 18.—"I have not always poked out my chest," Morgenstern has talked and done nothing. He is a "four-flusher" and a grand stand. It doesn't go with me," angrily exclaimed Chairman William Hammond, Jr., of the city council utilities committee at the council meeting last evening. The remarks of the angry committee chairman caused an equally heated retort from Councilman Morgenstern.

In his retort Councilman Morgenstern said:

"I don't believe Mr. Hammond that you are so far advanced in intellect that you know it all."

"As I said before, your ideas may be good, but that is no sign that someone else's might not be better. As long as I am a member of the utilities committee I am going to insist on being consulted and considered in the duties and responsibilities of the committee."

The clash came when Hammond offered a utilities committee report dealing with changes and improvements to be made by the Southern Pacific in its Alameda local train service. Hammond declared that he had been attacked until he was sick of it. He then read the report, explaining that the report showed that he had not been derelict or careless in his duties as utility committee chairman, but had carefully looked after his duties and had pursued the usual custom of a committee chairman attending to most of the committee work.

He was arrested by Police Officer Dowling, Wikoff and Kohler and taken to the police station, where he was released on his own recognizance by Chief of Police Vollmer. He was booked for violation of the state law against speeding.

Complaint was made to the police that since the paving had been completed on the north end of Shattuck avenue motorists and automobilists had used the thoroughfare as a speedway, endangering lives.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 18.—Joseph Martelli of 1588 Webster street was convicted late yesterday by a jury in Judge R. B. Tappan's court of selling liquor without a license. He will appear for appeal Friday morning at 9 o'clock, at which time his attorney, John L. McVey, will move for a new trial.

City Attorney A. J. Quinn, the prosecutor, said that the feature of the case was that Julia Martelli, daughter of the defendant, testified for the prosecution. The only other witness was Police Officer Thomas Bailey for the prosecution, and Martelli for the defense.

The defendant admitted giving away wine but denied selling liquor. The giving away of liquor is an offense under the ordinance. The police assert that Martelli has been running a blind pig. The jury was composed of F. M. Cross, C. A. Wakefield, John Houson, Charles Stenif, C. H. Little, David C. Hollywood, F. Barry, John Davidson and E. O. Peterson.

FEAR COLLISION VICTIMS MAY BE BADLY INJURED

ALAMEDA, Oct. 18.—Because they have not heard from their three daughters since they were injured in the wreck of the Missouri-Pacific passenger train near Omaha Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. La Jeunesse fear that they may be so badly hurt that they are unable to inform the hospital attendants of their home address. Dr. La Jeunesse is now endeavoring to learn where his injured daughters were taken after the wreck, and the extent of their injuries.

The three sisters are Emma, Olive, Dorothy, Hope and Flore La Jeunesse. Flore is 15 years old, Hope is 24 and Emma is the eldest. They are on the Southern-Consolidated circuit, and under the name of the Conway Trio do a fencing and song and dance turn. The two eldest girls are skilled fencers and the chief feature of their offering is a fencing bout in which one sister disarms the other, "wounding" her, the youngest sister singing a dying lament over the prostrate body on the stage.

The three sisters left Alameda a year ago, starting their vaudeville tour at Los Angeles and traveling through California and the Northwest, as far east as Iowa and Missouri. They were working homeward at the time of the wreck and expected to reach Alameda in about two months.

As a result of the accident, Mrs. La Jeunesse is confined to her bed.

WILL TELL OF DISCOVERY OF MOTIF OF ANCIENT ARCHITECTURE.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 18.—Yucatan architecture will be the subject of an address to be delivered by Henry Hornbostel of New York, architect of Oakland's new city hall, and of several gigantic bridges, the University of Pittsburgh and the state building of Albany, New York. The lecture will be given with stereopticon views at California hall at the State university, under the auspices of the department of architecture.

Hornbostel came to trespass upon the fields of archaeology, when he learned from scientists who had visited Yucatan that a highly developed and evolved form of architecture was to be found in the interior of the strange peninsula which sits in the Gulf of Mexico.

Lloyd Warren, an architect who had been his classmate in Columbia university, he journeyed to Yucatan, and for three months devoted himself to a study of the ruins.

Hornbostel and Warren were the discoverers of the motif of Yucatan architecture, which finds its expression in the conventionalized symbol of the serpent. The testimony of archaeologists and geologists sets the period of the building of these temples some 4000 to 7000 years ago, the discovery of Hornbostel and Warren show that this architecture must have been the flowering of centuries of evolution and development. In this art, the people who created these archaic forms preceded the copper-colored race occupying the Americas at the time of the discovery.

Hornbostel was amazed to find that the primitive civilization had so far developed that the principle of cantilever construction were known and utilized to the fullest extent in temple building. The lecture will be copiously illustrated with stereopticon views, and will be particularly interesting with a string of anecdotes of the trip to Yucatan.

KNOWLAND SPEAKS TO BERKELEYITES

Congressman Tells People of College Town All About Panama Canal.

BERKELEY, Oct. 18.—At St. Joseph's academy last evening, before a crowded hall of students and faculty, Congressman Knowland delivered an illustrated lecture on the Panama canal. In speaking of the wisdom of the United States in deciding upon the canal, the speaker said: "Under conditions prevailing on the isthmus, to have constructed a sea level canal would have cost the expenditure of a sum of money that would have staggered the nation, and the time necessary to complete such a project would have been years ago and have lived in Alameda 20 years."

"The slides occurring in Culbreth cut and the tremendous flow of water in the rainy season from the Chagres river and its tributaries would have presented problems almost impossible of solution. Everything in the canal had been constructed at least one or two years ago and been necessary owing to the difference in tides. The maximum tide oscillation on the Atlantic side is two and a half feet and on the Pacific side 21 feet."

Over 100 views were shown in the progress of the work along the line of the canal. The views were intended to give all of the great canals of the world of the lock and sea level type.

OTIS AND JOHNSON REACH AGREEMENT

That Is to Say, General and Governor Will Remain Hostile.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—All Los Angeles is laughing today over a chance encounter of Governor Hiram Johnson and General Harrison Gray Otis, political and personal enemies. The meeting occurred during President Taft's recent visit to Los Angeles.

In publishing account of the affair today the Los Angeles Times, owned by General Otis, says:

"It is not true that General Otis sought a meeting with Governor Johnson."

"The fact is that General Otis sought and secured an introduction to Adjutant General Forster, not knowing that Governor Johnson was in the same automobile. One of the committee on arrangements, without due reflection, undertook to introduce General Otis to the governor, without consulting either."

Governor Johnson protested that he did not want an introduction, and General Otis emphatically did the same.

"I did not come here to be introduced to you, Mr. Johnson," General Otis said.

"I want to preserve my right of hostility to you," replied the governor.

"That is right; stand fast. I will do the same," said the general and the incident was closed."

STEAMER GOES DOWN
WITH ALL ON BOARD

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 18. — News was brought by the Zealandia, which arrived from Australia yesterday, of the wreck of the Australian coal steamer Rosedale, with all hands. The steamer ran into a heavy reef after leaving the north coast for Sydney and foundered. Some small wreckage, mostly buckets and deck gear, was washed ashore. The steamer had seven passengers and a crew of nineteen. Mr. and Mrs. McKay, two of the passengers, were dealt hardly with by fate. The vessel was intended for another family of the same name, and without waiting for verification, started for Sydney and were among the victims.

DREW NEAR DEATH
ON BLAZING VESSEL

TACOMA, Oct. 18. — The tug McKinley, owned by Captain Sutherland of Seattle, caught fire yesterday while at anchor in the harbor. The vessel was narrowly escaped in a lifeboat and were brought here by the steamer Audrey, which played a stream on the tug and extinguished the fire, but not before it was totally wrecked. The McKinley was valued at $45,000.

'FARM WORK FOR CONVICTS,' THEME

Delegate Halbert Discusses the Plan Before American Prison Congress.

OMAHA, Oct. 18. — Expressing the opinion that farm work for prisoners who have been found guilty of misdemeanors should be permitted in every State, L. A. Halbert of Kansas City, addressed the American Prison Congress today. He was followed by James A. Kayall, of New Zealand, whose views received sympathetic attention.

"Society," said Mr. Halbert, "has no right to deprive any man of the opportunity to engage in wholesome and interesting labor, even though he be a prisoner. If we have any human sympathy for, or interest in, prisoners, we will see to it that they have a chance to work."

The labor of prisoners should stand the same tests as that of any other persons who are employed. Any factory labor or mining or any other kind of labor carried on in prisons must be done under healthy conditions and with reasonable hours and no improper strain. I do not believe we should use the idea, or give the idea, that work is punishment. We do not want to teach prisoners to hate work. To try to make their work distasteful is cruel and senseless."

Prison camps in New Zealand in connection with a government station plan were described by James A. Kayall, attorney at law, of New Zealand, who is a member of the American Prison Congress. He described the objects of the plan, he described as two fold, to provide healthy and useful labor for prisoners amidst surroundings which are quite different from their former habit of life, and to accomplish useful labor for the State without coming into competition with free labor.

Quoting President Taft as saying that "the administration of criminal law in this country is a disgrace to civilization," Judge C. A. De Courcy, of Lawrence, Mass., justice of the Superior Court of Massachusetts, before the American Prison Association, last night pointed out that the United States was conspicuous for the great number of unpunished murderers.

"The defense of insanity, the limitation of the power of judges and the character of testimony allowed to be introduced in behalf of the defendant, were some of the evils which, he said, ought to be reformed."

"The number of homicides in this country for 1910 were 975—an increase of nearly 900 over the number in 1909; yet only one in 86 were capital punished. In 1910 as against one in 74 during the year preceding," said Judge De Courcy.

"It is said that in 1896 for each million of the population there were 118 homicides in the United States; in Italy less than 15; in Canada less than 13; in Great Britain less than 9; in Germany less than 5."

SEATTLE SHIPYARD IS GIVEN $130,000 CONTRACT

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 18. — A local shipyard was awarded the contract for the construction of two steel steam wharves for the Canadian North Fisheries company. The total contract price is $130,000. The vessels will be 80 feet long, 18 feet beam and 11.6 feet deep. It is expected they will be ready for launching in six months.

DISMISS CHARGES.

TURLOCK, Oct. 18. — According to the developments here H. C. Duidman, a San Francisco real estate man, recently arrested for forgery, will have this charge against him withdrawn following an agreement between him and his alleged victims, whereby the real estate contracts are canceled and quit claim deeds for the property involved delivered over to the original owners.

CREDITORS ATTACH
ACTOR'S PROPERTY

$250,000 Worth of California Property Involved to Satisfy Claim Against Edna.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17. — Attorney L. B. Stanton, representing creditors of Mrs. Edna Goodrich Goodwin, former wife of Nat. C. Goodwin, the actor, today filed attachment papers upon about $250,000 worth of California property holdings of Goodwin. The property attached includes the Santa Monica home of the actor, valued at $40,000, and Orange county and San Francisco property valued at about $200,000.

Mayor T. H. Dudley of Santa Monica, trustee for the Goodwin property, and Attorney F. G. Tyrrell, representing Mr. Goodwin, declare no notice of the attachment has been filed upon them. Mr. Tyrrell said as soon as notice was filed upon him he would resist the case on the grounds that Mrs. Goodwin has no interest in any of the California holdings of his client.

The attachment is said to be filed in order to satisfy a claim of $2000 held against Mrs. Goodwin by the Hotel Ansonia, New York City.

Oakland and Antioch People Having Trouble On Shafter Avenue.

Superior Judge Frank B. Ogden entered an order last yesterday temporarily restraining the Oakland and Antioch Railway Company from running freight cars over its right of way in Shafter avenue. The court ruled that defendant corporation obtained from the municipal council of Oakland a franchise to operate a street railway for passenger service and that it could not include freight traffic under the ordinance.

The point was raised by Joseph A. Hoffman, a taxpayer, who, together with other owners of property in Shafter avenue, have been fighting the extension of the Oakland and Antioch line through their thoroughfare. Since the city council granted it a franchise, the corporation issued last evening does not prevent the railway corporation from laying its tracks along Shafter avenue, and has filed a bond of $5000 to cover possible damages in the immediate operation of the road.

Should Judge Ogden's temporary restraining order be made permanent it is altogether likely that the company will carry the fight to the Supreme Court. It claims that the city franchise gives it the right to run freight cars through Shafter avenue.

GERMS IN HER SYSTEM

Every Woman Should Read This Advice and the Generous Offer That Goes With It.

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that is usually most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailment of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissues, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Rexall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at The Owl Drug Co. (Inc.), 10th and Washington, 18th and Broadway, 16th and San Pablo.

Attorney Kerr has taken up the matter.

"Mix half ounce of Concentrated Pine compound and two ounces of glycerine with half a pint of good whiskey; shake well and use in doses of one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bedtime. Smaller doses to children according to age. Any one can mix this. But be sure to get only the genuine (Globe) Concentrated Pine. Each half ounce bottle comes in a sealed tin screw-top case. If the druggist does not have it he will quickly get it. Many mixtures are of large quantity and cheaper, but it is risky to experiment. This formula comes from a reliable doctor and is certain."
